Welcome to a "Journey Through Time." The members of the Carmian staff have prepared a unique collection of memories which we hope you will enjoy. Travel with us now as we experience a new dimension in yearbook enjoyment.

Of course, you noticed the sparkling gold cover when you picked up this annual. The significance of the aureus color is that in our high school era, our Journey through Time, the glitter fad has played a definite role in recent fashion history. The [illegible] design on the cover depicts the various seasons — Fall, Winter, and Spring — through which we trek during our school year.

The title page is indeed an innovation. The 1978 Carmian is the first year ever to have a full-color title page. Furthermore, as you carefully observe the painting, you will be able to note the symbolism used in the prismatic illustration. As you inspect the girl dressed in a colorful plaid blouse and blue jeans, you will remember your attire which was worn during the fall. As you glance to the right, you will recollect the memories that the Winter Miss will bring. Her heavy fur coat will remind you of cold winter evenings and out-of-school sledding excursions. The young girl in a bright yellow dress will help you to recall our late arrival of Spring; however, the flowers eventually bloomed and the birds finally sang. The boy on the far left signifies All Seasons: yellow leaves on his orange shirt, a pair of ice skates in his right hand, and a rose in his left hand. This illustration indeed symbolizes our Journey Through Time by Seasons.

On page 2 and 3, you will see the Table of Contents. This introduction provides for three techniques that will make Carmian history. First of all, two pages instead of one are utilized for the contents; second, all sub-sections are completely indexed; third, color appears on every page in the Opening instead of the usual every two pages.

The colors also are continued throughout the opening. The orange tint does not only occur in the Fall contents, but the color reoccurs on pages 6 and 7 — the Fall opening. The blue tones also appear in the Winter contents and again in the Winter opening. The Spring section likewise uses its green color in the contents and again in the Spring opening. All Seasons, which is the chief section, is merely itemized in the contents and depicted by full-color photographs of timely events in the opening.

Besides the opening section, the total yearbook is divided into different sections by seasons. The Fall section contains all Autumn sports, dances, and performances. The Winter section is comprised of any activity which occurs during winter months. The Spring section likewise consists of events which take place in the springtime. Those activities which happen all during the school year are classified "All Seasons."

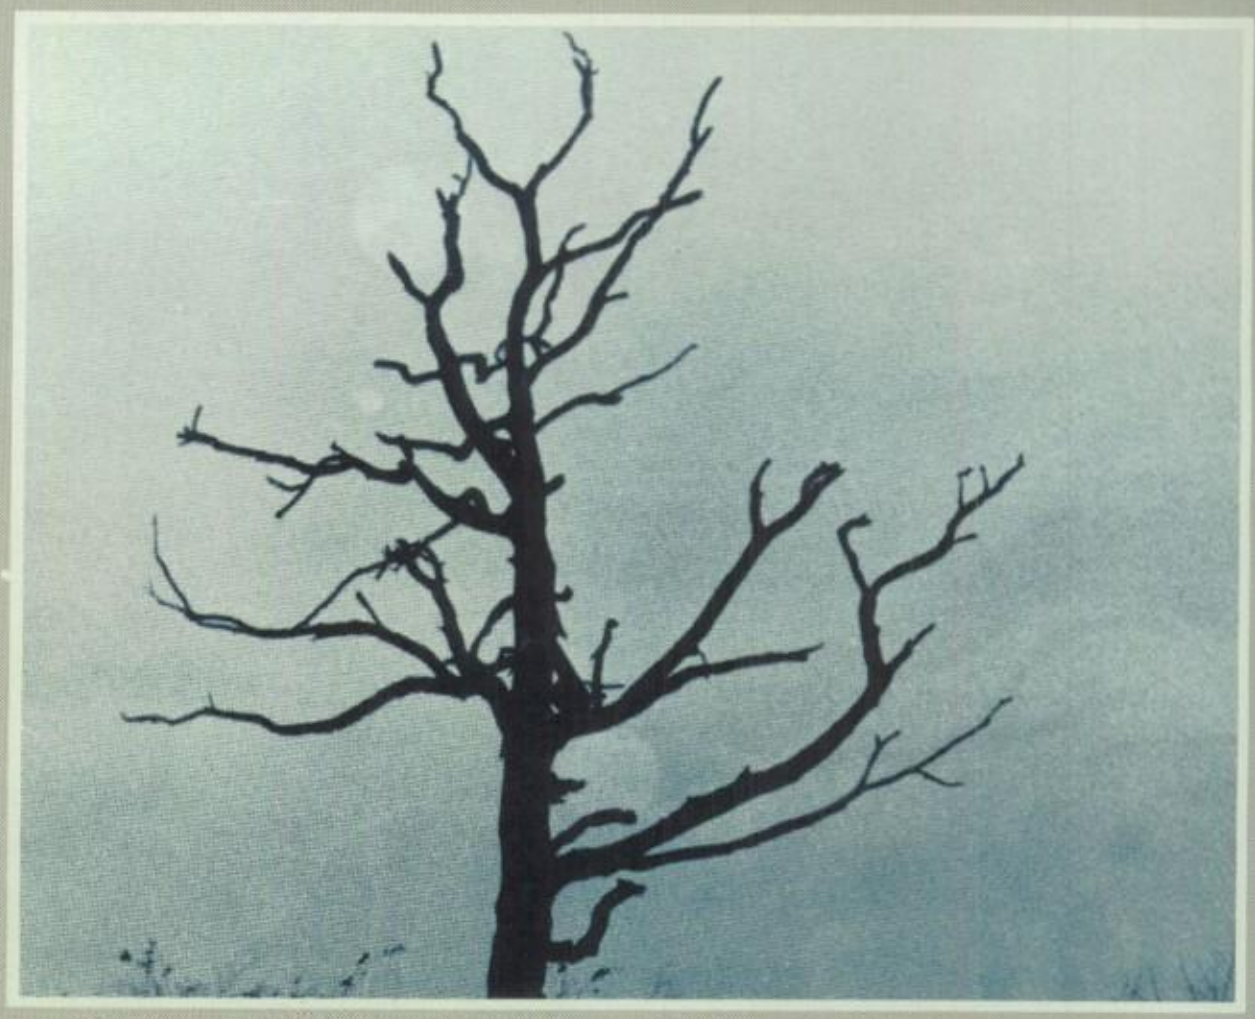
We hope this new yearbook technique will be enjoyed by all and remembered by all who have experienced it.

Becky Travelstead
Editor-in-Chief

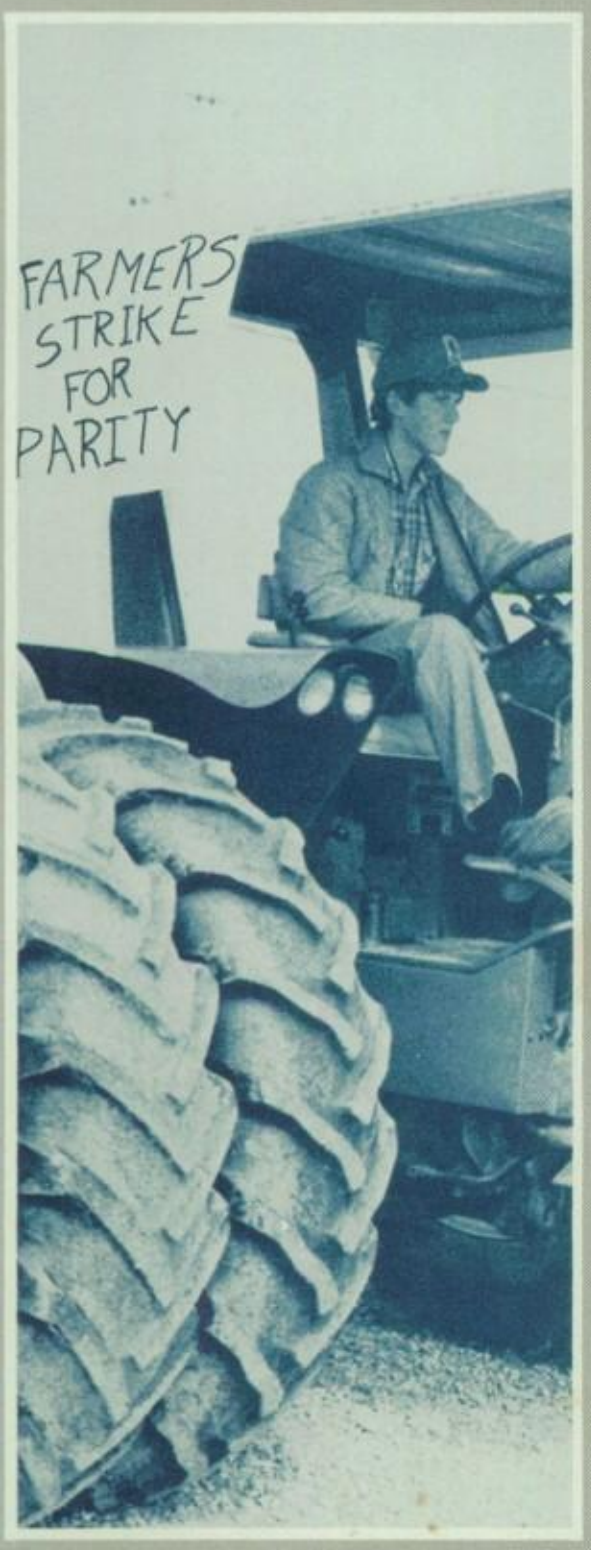
Our Journey began last September — with two new administrators and a list of rule changes. As usual, we took advantage of the pleasant weather by "hanging out" at the Dairy Queen.

After we once again congregated inside, we discovered the hidden talent of Juniors, especially Greg Stewart and John Given, as they enacted "Lilacs in the Rain."

Our pastimes during the autumn differed among individuals. Some of us, such as Gale Courtnage, delighted in soaping car windows; however, the golf team found pleasure in winning their third consecutive State Championship. Nevertheless, one source of entertainment which proved to be popular with all was Freedom Jam.



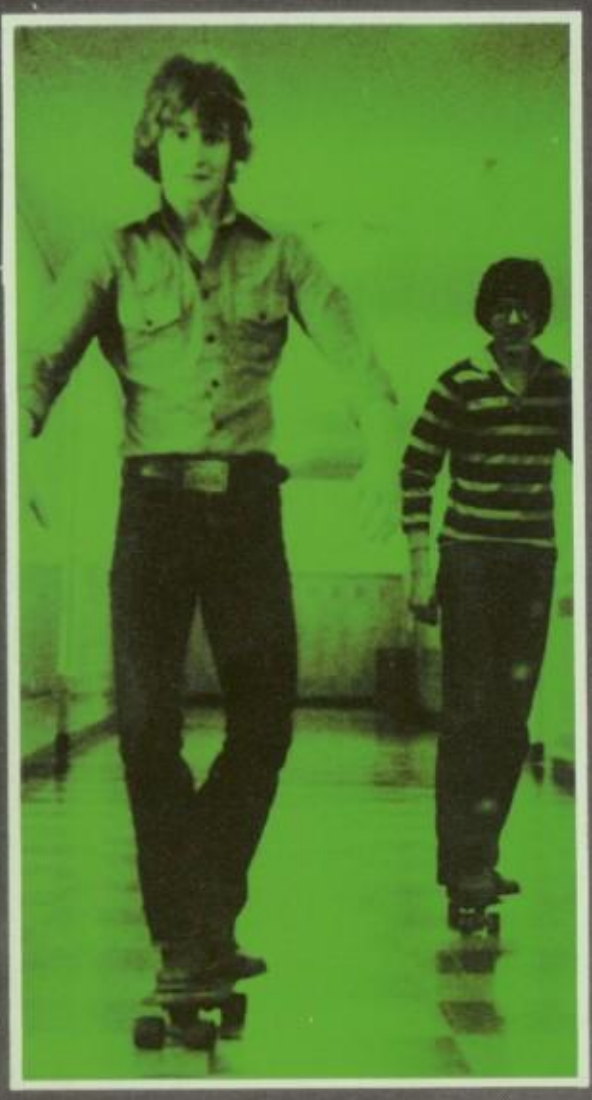
Next came the bitterness of the long hard winter. The snow kept piling, piling, piling . . . but Gary "Mad Dog" Erwin attempted to make the best of it by hunting down Big Foot.

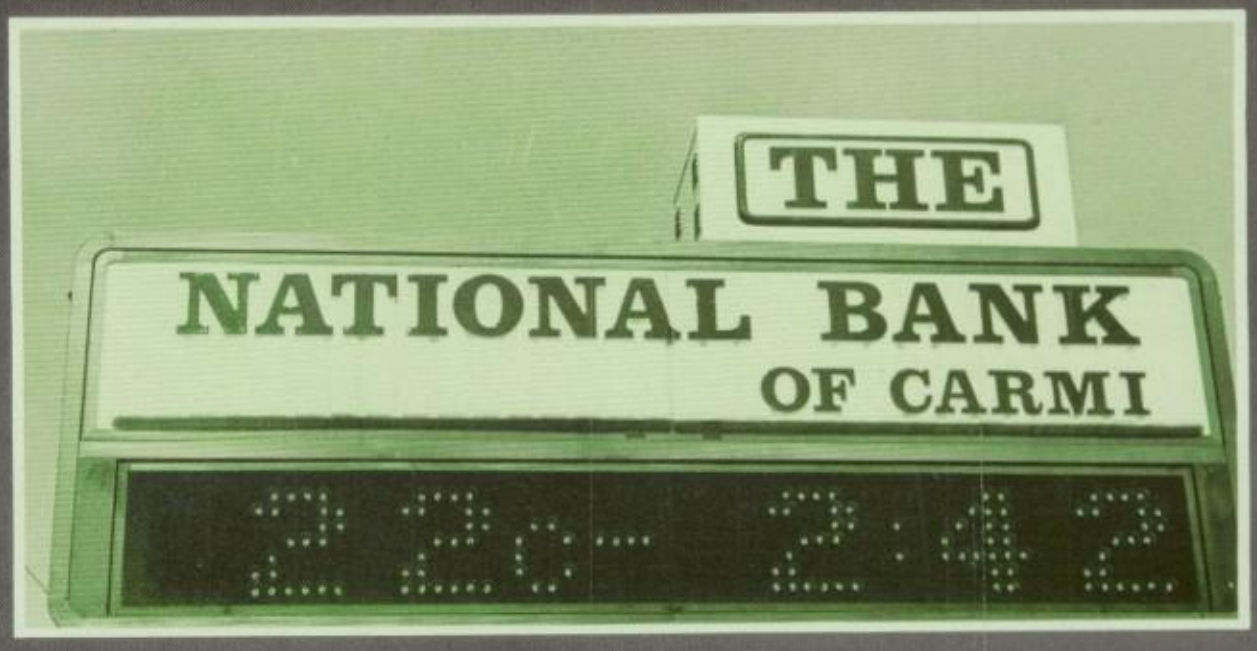


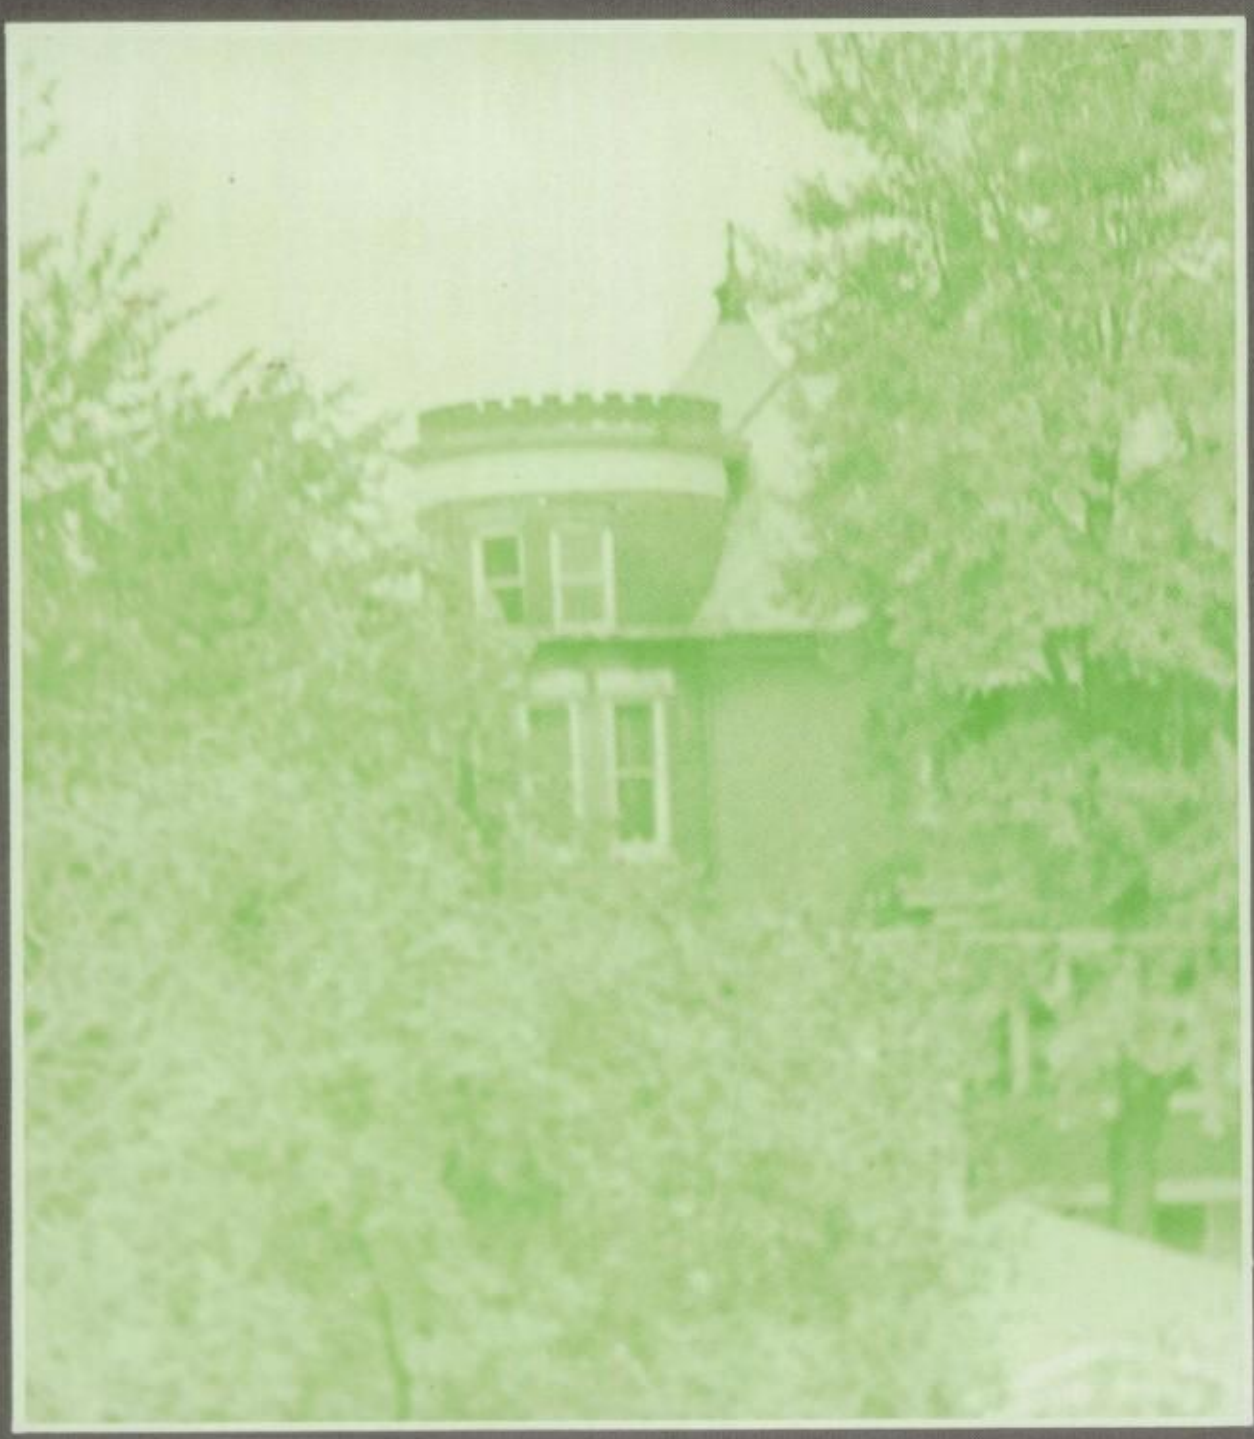
Along with winter came many problems. Not only were coal miners unwilling to work and demanding a salary increase, but some farmers, like Tony Bingman, refused to sell grain in order to receive parity at the markets. These issues did not seem to bother Sherri Snyder and Jeff Cutchin, for they remained undisturbed by sharing an icicle.

While everyone was dreaming of a white Christmas, Miss Bratton added humor to our day with the winning door decoration.

The tell-tale signs of Spring finally became visible. A lily bloomed, the Easter Bunny made his annual visit, a calf was born.

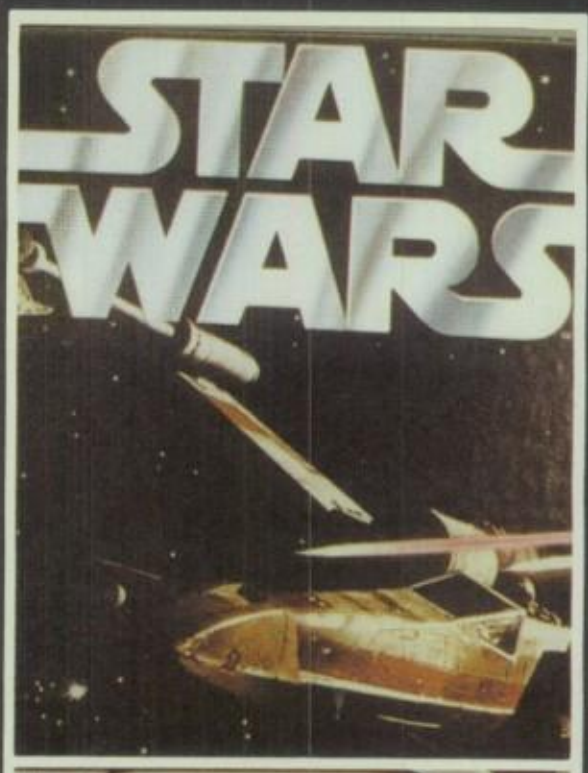


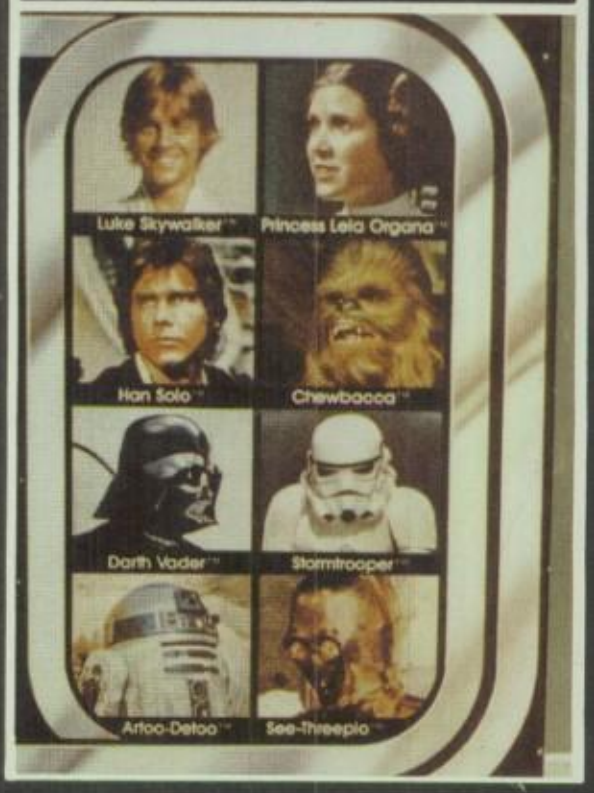




A novel sport, skateboarding, became popular with the students, including Robin Harris and Jeff Bova. As we "dragged" Main Street, we noticed that the use of metrics had become evident — the National Bank Sign now read 22°c instead of 72°F.

During the course of the year, several events were impressed upon us Lou Brock surpassed Ty Cobb's base stealing record; we viewed the young children in the annual Corn Day Pet Parade, we looked on as the movie Star Wars'' became a box office smash hit





We grieved as the legendary "King of Rock," Elvis Presley, died We watched the fads of our world change — to glitter This was truly a memorable year

Third Team Is Charm

State golf champs for the third consecutive year . . . amazing!

The team consisted of senior, Steve Stone; junior, John Given; sophomore, Keith Bratton; Andy Aylsworth and Bryan Williams, both seniors; and sophomore, David Given. Coach of the golf team was Dave Johnson.

Bulldogs were one stroke behind Kankakee Macnamara the first day and the second day they came from behind to capture the title by two shots.

John Given finished fourth with 77-73 and Andy Alysworth finished fifth shooting 79-72. David Given had 80-73 tying for ninth place. Steve Stone shot 78-78 finishing twelfth. Bryan Williams shot 81's both days and Keith Bratton shot 85-84.

State was held at Lincoln Green Course and Oakcrest Country Club.

Everyday 7th hour the sixteen member golf team and their coach went to the Carmi Country Club. Why? Because to be good in anything you must first excel in that area. Well, that's what the golfers did. They set their mind on winning and ended their season with fifteen wins and no losses. (excluding tournaments)

There will be six underclassmen who will be returning next year along with five juniors who will also be back. Coach Johnson and the team lost five seniors: Andy Aylsworth, Kyle Davidson, James Gentry, Steve Stone and Bryan Williams.

Each member of the team steadily improved his game and has built a strong foundation to capture the '78 state title for the fourth consecutive time.

John Given, junior, was presented the Most Outstanding Upperclassman award, based on sportsmanship, leadership and improvement of his game.

Coach David Johnson had a 108 wins and 52 loss record at the close of his 13th year at Carmi.

BCH Teams Win State Football Titles

Baptist Children's Home's Girls and Boys flag football teams traveled to Rock Island to compete for the state title.

The team made up of nine girls went into the playoffs with an undefeated record of 4-0. They scored 78 points and held their opponents to six points.

The boys team had eleven guys on it; four of which played high school ball. With a 5-0 winning record the team went into the state games.

In their five games they allowed 26 points to the opponents and scored 150 themselves.

Winning the state title was quite an accomplishment plus the fact the girls held their opponents to no TD's and when the pressure was on during sudden death the boys came through scoring the first touchdown.

Varsity Bulldogs Finish Season With 4-5 Record

Carmi Bulldogs may not have had an undefeated season but they proved they were tough.

Lineup had many changes due to players being taken from action because of injuries and some who quit. But, substitutions were made and the Bulldogs were ready to go.

This year, like every year, had its graduating seniors. Out of the 29 players; ten were seniors — eight of whom started. Also, six of the ten gained recognition on the conference teams.

Most outstanding of the games was at Mt. Carmel where the Bulldogs scored the first time they had the ball and held the Aces to scoring only two touchdowns in the first half.

Carmi received the Shriner's trophy after defeating the Olney Tigers 15-6.

The Sophomore football team had a very successful season; posting a 5-0 record.

When this team played as freshmen they compiled a 5-1 record. The future for these boys as varsity looks very promising.

As a team, Coach Bax and Coach Gates' boys had a very strong defensive line. The offensive team was very forceful — scoring 134 points to the opponents' 54 points.

Chris Kisner, Robin Harris, Richie Minor, Jim Minor, Troy Deitz and Rick Sundeen went from the sophomore line-up and dressed for the varsity games.

Scoring touchdowns for the Bulldogs were runningbacks, Rick Sundeen and Troy Deitz and quarterback Jim Minor.

Managers were Tim Archer, Mark Boren and Mike Gillihan.

1. This was a familiar sight to the sophomores. That is . . . run the play for first and ten.
2 and 3. Coaching the team to an undefeated season were Coach Tony Gates and Coach Thys Bax.

No Aces; But Frosh Have Decent Hand

The Freshman team coached by Harold Poore and Bill Payne had an average season. They finished with a 3-2 record. The two losses came to Mt. Carmel and victories came over McLeansboro, Eldorado and Fairfield.

The Bulldogs opened their season to McLeansboro and chalked up a 1-0 record. They then defeated Eldorado 20-6 and beat the Fairfield Mules 28-0.

Mt. Carmel Aces were a tough match for the freshmen. The Aces had little league football which made the Aces have excellent teamwork. This created a problem for our offensive as well as defensive teams.

1. Athletic director Harold Poore spent his second year of coaching football with the Freshman team.

2. Front Row, l-r: Mike Welker, Charlie Seagul, Roger Green, Paul Dassel, Todd Waller, Tom Gholson, Lee Morrill, Mike Small, Robert Gwaltney, Mike Gwaltney, Richie Minor. Middle Row: Jeff Doneghue, Jim Brehm, Mike Malone, Steve Davidson, Steve Cochran, Mike Donehue, Kevin Savage, Lance Leithliter, Bobby Bincsik, Steve Finchem, and Jim Taylor. Back Row: Anthony Hamblin, David Hertzing, Marvin Abbey, Mel Douglas, Doug Churchwell, Jack Sailer, Brad Cutchin, Aubrey Wheeler, Doug Metcalf and Jim Inman.

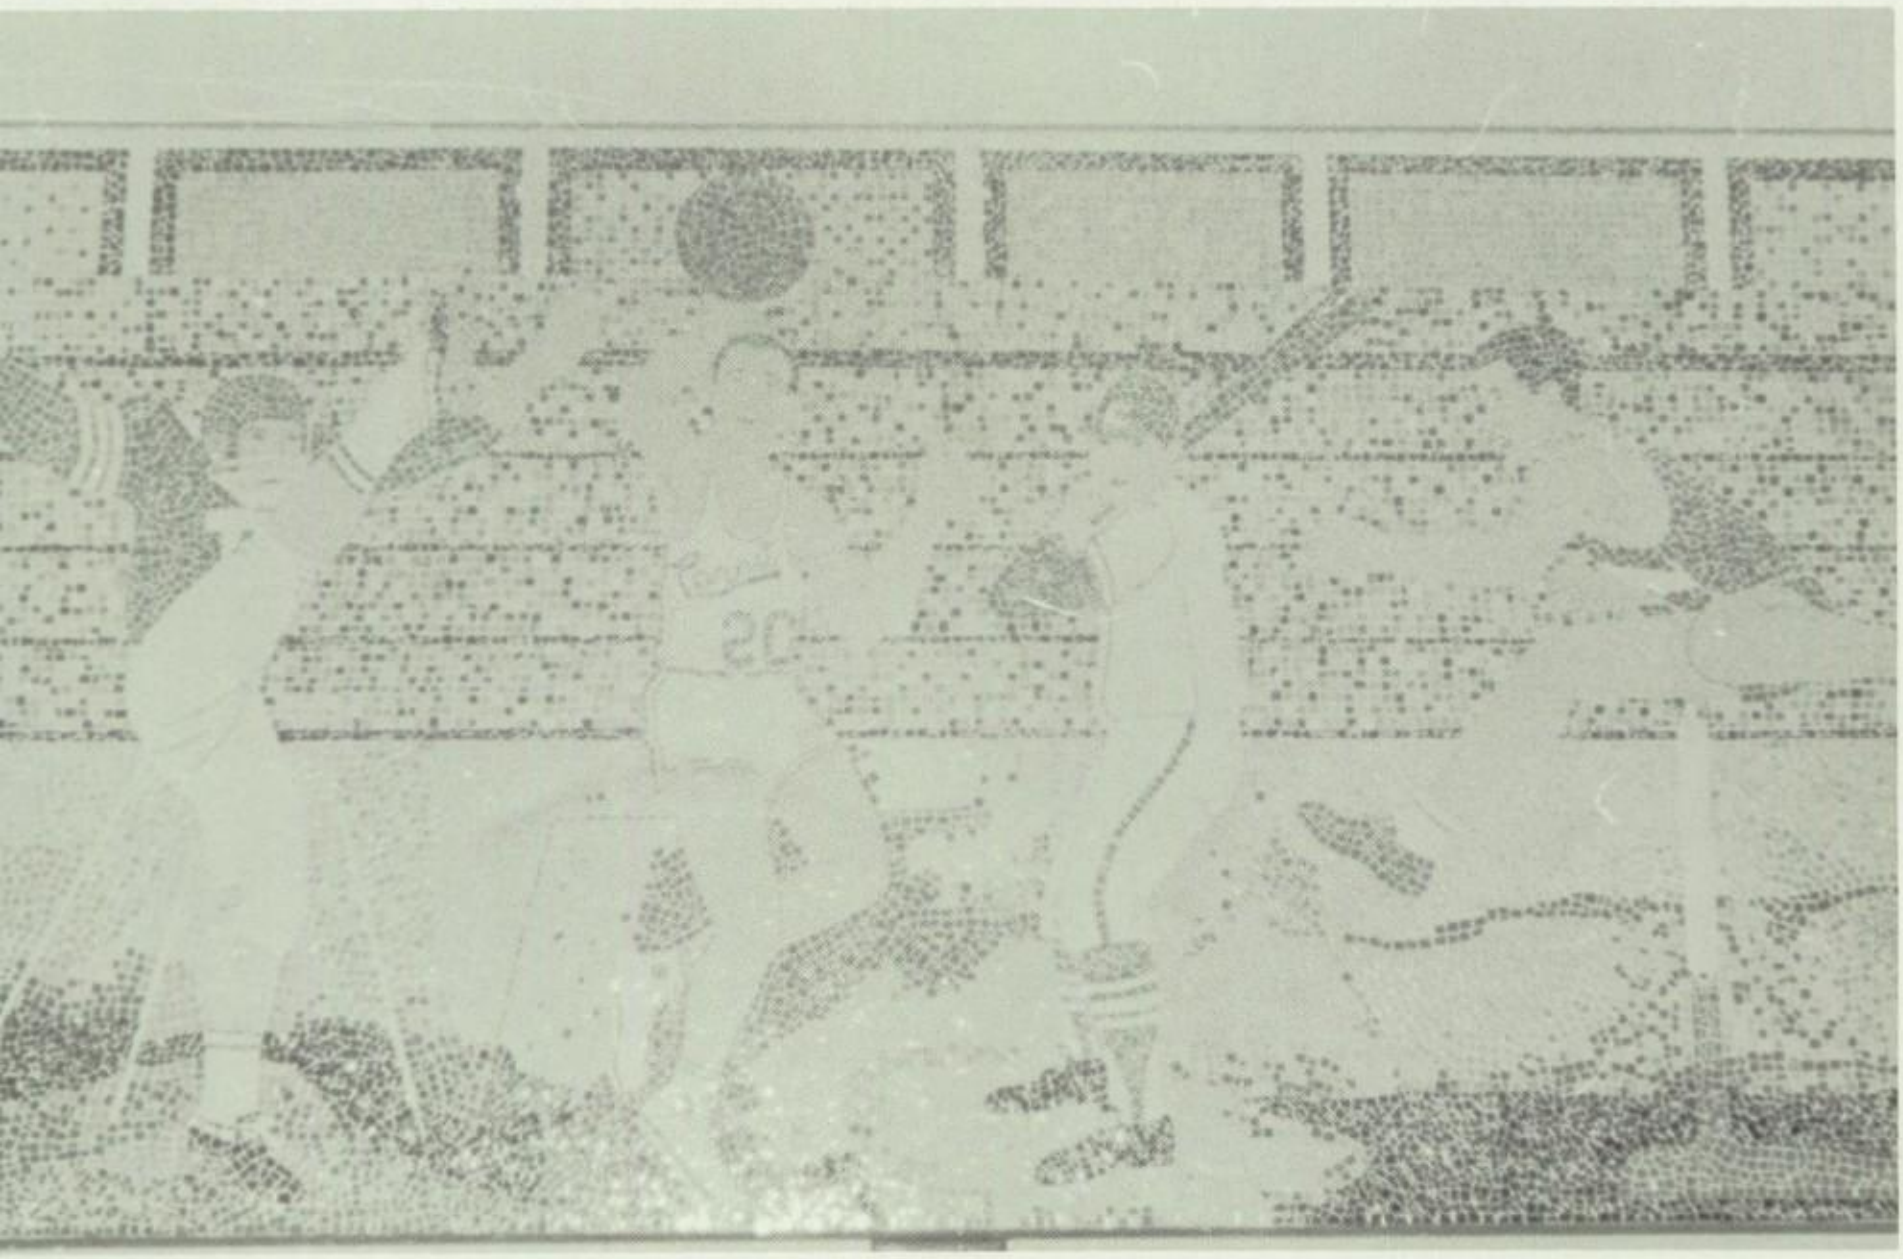
Banquet Held In Teams' Honor



The annual VFW fall sports banquet was held at the local VFW Post # 3851.

Reverend Harrison L. Peyton gave the invocation and benediction.

After the meal those present were welcomed by Ted Matsel, Commander of the #3851 post.

Cross country team members were introduced by Barry Lavay, and Coach Johnson introduced the golf team. The football teams were also introduced.

Gary Nolan, sportswriter for the Carmi Times was on hand to present the awards to varsity football players named to the conference team by the newspaper association.

WROY-WRUL was represented by Steve Cox. He awarded the broadcaster's choice for conference teams.

Harriers Run Close Race Finishing 4-3

Under new coach Barry Lavay, the Bulldogs finished the season with four wins and three losses.

Home meets were held on a 2.9 mile course at Burrell's Woods.

Brett Parks placed first for Carmi in the Norris City Invitational. He came in 29th and 16th with times of 17:37 and 16:16. Gary Dillman finished 19th in the Harrisburg meet with a time of 16:19.

The NEC meet was held at Salem where the Bulldogs finished fifth as a team. Individually Brett placed 16th and Ronnie Mitchell came in 25th.

Coach Lavay only lost one senior runner and that was Gary Dillman who finished first for Carmi in over half of the meets.

The runners competed with class AA teams and class A teams and did well against both.

1. Left to Right: Coach Lavay, Skeeter Miller, Ronnie Mitchell, Wayne Mifflin, Jeff Nelson, Tom Bowling, Brett Parks, Gary Dillman, Todd Waller, Mike Westfall and Arthur Koker.

JV's Take One Loss In Season

Junior varsity spikers competed in nine games before suffering their first loss of the season to Salem.

Five sophomores and eight freshmen made up the team. Coaching the girls was Georgia Bramlet better known as Miss B and assisting her was Nancy Price.

The JV's didn't have any tournaments but they had practice after practice to improve their bump, sets, spikes and serves. They usually had two games a week where their teamwork paid off.

Miss B's team didn't fool around in the matches. They won all but three of the matches in the first two games.

Susan Spaetti and Martha Ackerman, freshmen, and Sara Norris and Cindy Adams, sophomores, were leading scorers for the Bulldogs.

Victorious would be the best way to describe the 1977 varsity volleyball team.

The girls won the district for the fourth year in a row and advanced to the sectional but just barely got beaten by Steeleville.

As this season came to an end Miss B finished her fifth year of coaching with a total of 78 wins and 18 losses.

Carmi's volleyball team will be missing a few starters as the 1978 season rolls around. Mary Whetstone, Cindy Reker and Pascalle Cleveland have been active in volleyball since their freshman year and were starters on the '77 team. Karen Atteberry will also be graduating leaving an open spot in the lineup.

The 1977 varsity team was a very successful team and have a lot to be proud of.

Although rain threatened to dampen Homecoming spirits, the Bulldogs reigned victorious over the Olney Tigers to the theme of "Tear the Tigers to Tidbits."

In an autumn decorated girl's gym students danced to the music of "Palace." Bogart, the originally scheduled band, cancelled a few days before the dance due to the illness of some of their members, so senior sponsor, Mr. Mattingly, secured "Palace."

Building up to the dance, Homecoming excitement was felt at both the parade, Thursday afternoon, the bonfire, Thursday night and the pep session Friday afternoon. A long lost tradition, the snake dance, was held after the bonfire, with students forming one long line and dancing and cheering their way from the football field, downtown and back.

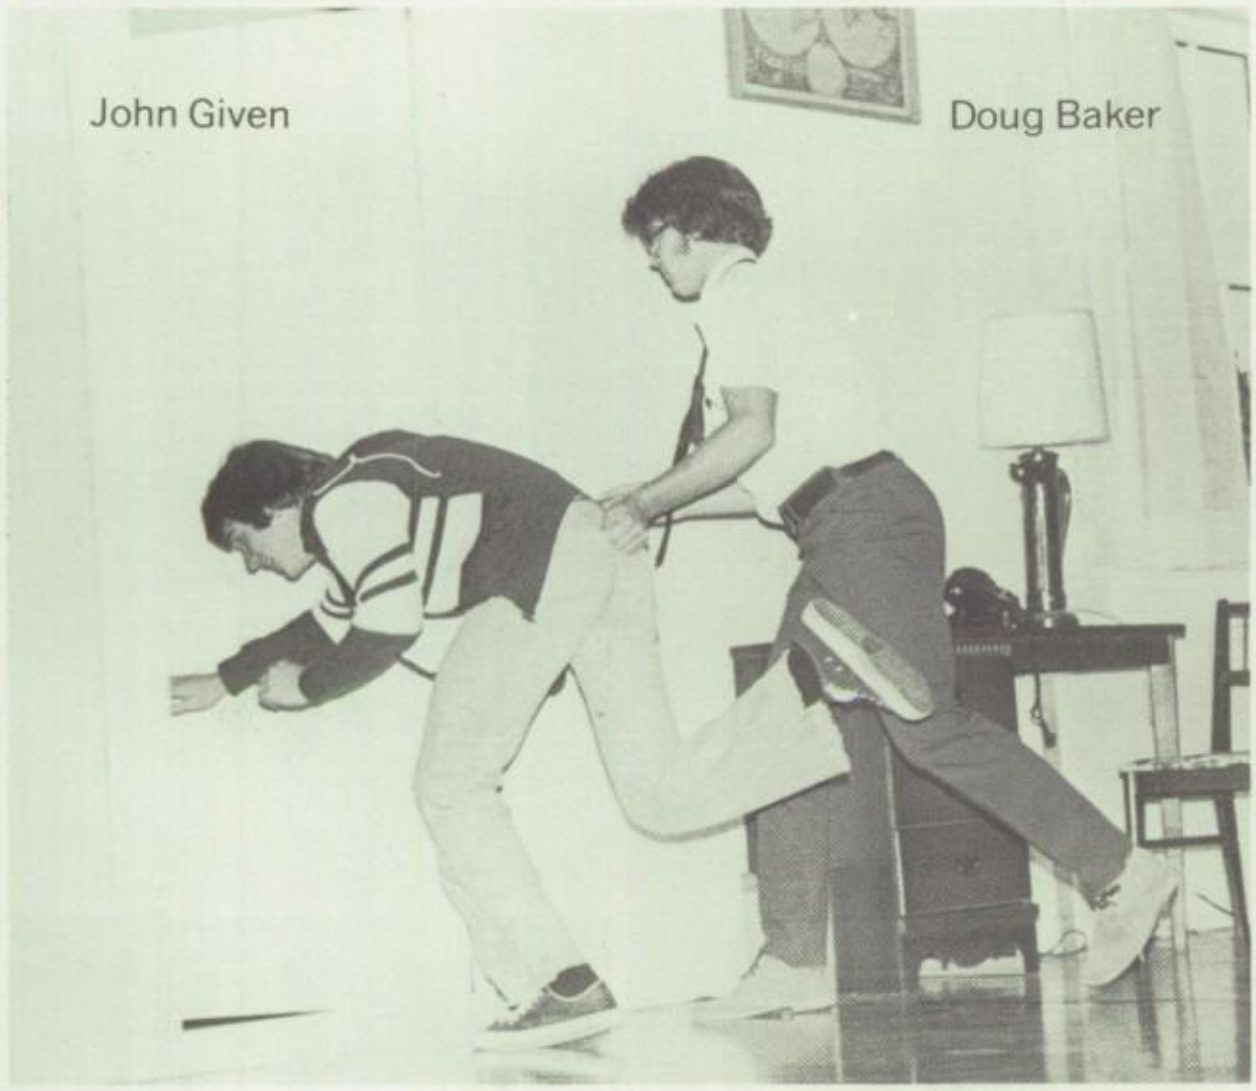
Jr. Class Presents "Lilacs In The Rain"



Performing to a large audience, the Junior Class presented "Lilacs in the Rain," a comical play about the Lambert family and the humorous traumas they face in every day life. The problems are only accentuated by the arrival of the prom which the two middle daughters, Letty (Christy Emery) and Laura (Lyndell Fechter) wish to attend, the near disastrous break-up of the eldest daughter Lavell (Andrea Holtzclaw) and her fiancé, Charles Attebury (Phil Burns) and the mischievous talk of the youngest, Shauna (Becky Knight). Only when complete confusion reigns in the family does the father (Doug Baker) step in to try to solve the dilemma. Under the direction of Mr. Henry Maddox, who was aided by student director Cindy Smith the play was termed excellent by many.

Sweetheart Dance Termed "A Big Success" By Many

Amidst the enormous snowflakes and sprigs of evergreen, Carmi High School students danced their cares away at the 1977 Sweetheart Dance. Other decorations which added to the festivities were a huge Christmas tree and a cozy fireplace. "Boogie Bad," an audio show from the Eldorado area, provided entertainment for the affair by playing a variety of top-40 songs. There were a few moments of panic when the scheduled photographer failed to appear, but Kevin French "Saved the night" by a last minute agreement to take pictures for the students. All in all, the dance, sponsored by the Student Council, was a success and will be remembered, as many students commented that "it was almost as good as prom."

Kays Captures NEC And District Titles

In conference action senior Keith Kays captured first place. His teammates David Atchley, Buddy Fischer and George Niekamp finished third. The Bulldogs finished fifth as a team.

Kays also won first place in the district match. David Atchley and Buddy Fischer once again finished third. Finishing fourth were Rick Sundeen and Mike Bova.

Freshman wrestlers participated in the South Seven Conference and placed sixth. Individually Brad Cutchin, Marvin Abbey and Roger Green took third places. Tom Gholson received fourth place.

As a team, Coach Gates' boys did not do very well but each individual was successful at one time or another. This year's team was composed mostly of unexperienced or second year wrestlers. With practice these boys will improve.

Coaching the Bulldogs to a 20-8 winning season was head coach, Harold Poore and his assistant, Tom Mears.

With an 11-3 record in the conference, the Bulldogs placed 2nd — one game behind Olney.

Three records were broken in the Red Hill game. Scoring 106 points broke the old scoring record of 95. The Bulldogs scored 55 points in the first half breaking the previous record of 47. The old record of two team game total was 176. In this game the Bulldogs scored 106 and the Salukis scored 81 for a total of 187.

In regional play the team battled it out and captured the title and advanced to the Bridgeport Sectional where they defeated Casey and went on to an upsetting loss to Effingham St. Anthony.

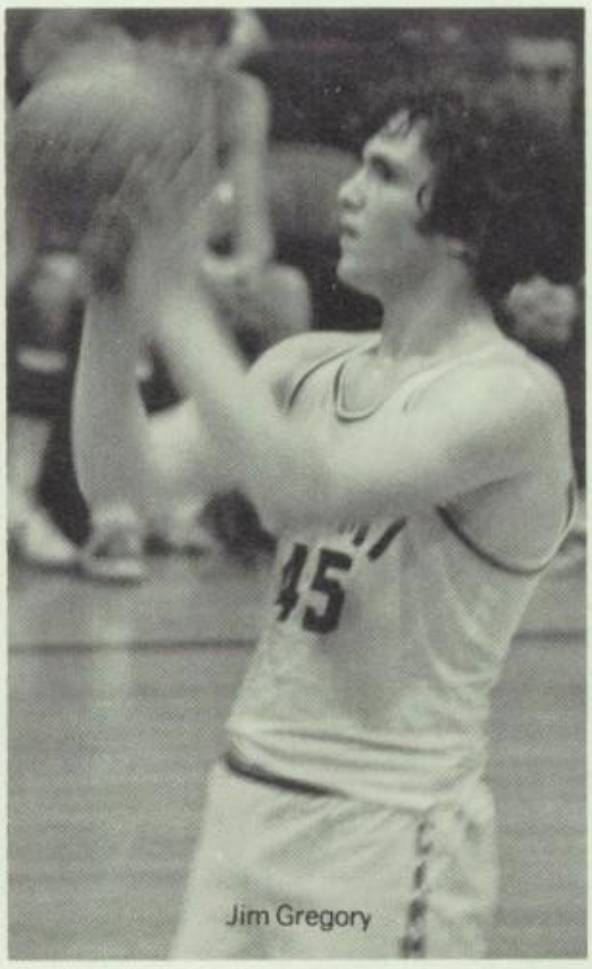
Seniors Contribute To '77-78 Season

Varsity Bulldogs saw a new face on the playing court this year.

Since Andy's freshman year he has been engrossed in golf but '77-78 brought him out for basketball.

First year players do not normally have much of a chance but Andy played in eleven games. His height of 6'1" enabled him to pull down some rebounds and he contributed 25 points to the season.

We'll remember Andy by the number 33 and the unique way he blew bubbles.

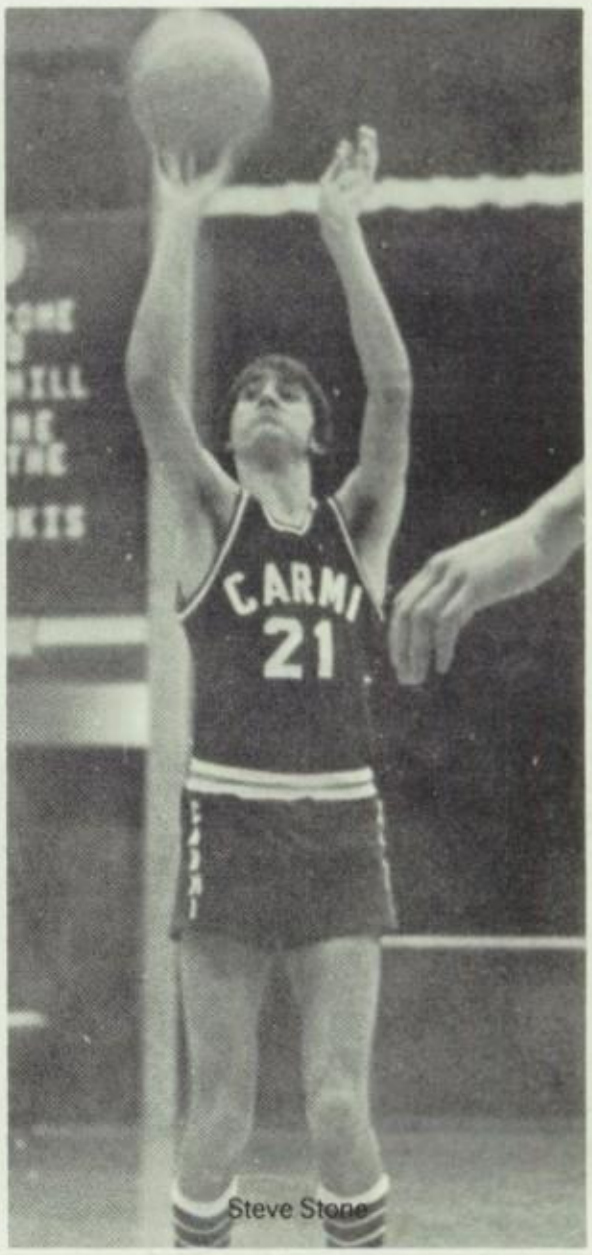


Jim Gregory

Jim was the main "inside" man for the Bulldogs. He pulled down an average of 10 rebounds per game, totaling 240 for the '77-78 season. His best game was against Red Hill, when he got 20 rebounds.

The 6'4" senior center contributed not only to the Bulldog defense but scored 319 points for the offense. His game high was 27 when Carmi played Flora.

North Egypt sportswriters named Jim to the all-conference team and he was also named to the Broadcaster's all-conference team.



Steve Stone

In this season Steve racked up 678 points breaking Mark Winter's previous 74-75 record of 643. For his four-year career total he scored 1217 points placing fifth in scoring.

Steve's outstanding performances gained much recognition. He was named to the Evansville Courier and Press 1st team all-southern Illinois, Chicago Tribune all star team, Chicago Daily News all state, Decatur-Herald all area, Metropolis all area, honorable all state and honorable mention associated press. Locally he was chosen to the NEC all-conference team, Benton all-tourney, honorable captain of the NEC and North-South game.

Teammates voted Stone as the MVP and the coaches chose him to the All-Southern Illinois team. He received the free-throw award, shooting 77%.

Junior Varsity had the best record since 1970. Coach Tom Mears' team compiled a 15 win and 3 loss schedule.

The Bulldogs broke the school scoring record. The old record of 88 was set in 1955 against Crossville. The team broke this record by 11 points when they played Edwards County and scored 99 points.

Coach Mears ended his six year coaching career with 72 wins and 36 losses.

He had a very cooperative team this year and the boys demonstrated their offensive and defensive abilities.

Sophomore NEC tournament was held at Salem. The Bulldogs first, defeated Flora then were victorious against Lawrenceville. Olney defeated Carmi in championship play, 73-55 handing the Bulldogs second place.

1. Coach Mears believes in suiting them up early in life; especially when they happen to be his own.

Coach Barry Lavay's varsity Bulldogs got off to a slow start but as time and games passed the group played a very agressive man-to-man ballgame.

Karen Atteberry, senior, was voted as most valuable player by her teammates. She ran the offense and always guarded the opponent's best player. She was also voted as best defensive player.

Best offensive player went to senior Mary Whetstone. She was the best outside shot Carmi had.

Sophomore Karen Seal was voted as the most improved player. Her strongest play was in the tournaments.

Next year's varsity looks very tough as Sara Norris, Anita Blazier, Beth Myers and Karen Seal will return.

Senior parent night was held the night of March 20 with an inters-quad game.

On March 17 and 18, the senior class presented "Happy Daze" an unusual play about the inner fears and secret dreams of a teenage boy named J. T. Springer (Kyle Davidson). When J. T. is not accepted by his fellow classmates at school (who think he is weird!) and is scolded for not getting along with his kid sister Linda (Becky Travelstead) by his parents (Brian Storey and Carla Taylor), J. T. retreats into his own world of make-believe where eyeryone is a friend including that one special girl (Melody Storey). But J. T. soon finds out that he can not run away from his problems in the real world. Together, with the help of director Mr. Henry Maddox, the cast worked, performing with superior talent, to draw record crowds each night of the play.

Art And Music Departments Exhibit Talents

After weeks of work and preparation, the Art and Music Departments exhibited their talents at the annual Sights and Sounds concert April 10. The event began by allowing the public time to stroll through the hallways to view some of the drawings, paintings, and craftwork created by Mr. Paul Bunting's Art I, II, III and IV classes. After this, began the second phase of the program. Mr. Mike Croghan, band director, led his varsity and jazz bands in several numbers followed by the freshman band under the direction of Mrs. Iva Jean Bayley. Also led by Mrs. Bayley was the CCHS choir who sang several songs some of which were "Rainy Day" and "Joy in the Morning." Two singing groups, the New Editions and Singing Six also contributed to the program.

Everything Came Up Roses For Fourteenth

As in the previous years, the long hours of hard work and practice (along with a lot of fun!) made the 14th annual One-Niter a big success. Consisting of more music and dancing routines than in the past, the program appealed to a different type of audience but still contained the favorite dash of nonsence thrown in here and there. Many people remarked that 'it was the best show in years,' but there seemed to be something for everyone some of which were "The Frogs," "New York, New York," and "Can You Take It." Other acts included "The NBS News Team" and the "Varsity Five." The program ended with the One-Niter dancers (the majorettes) who also added their own touch of flair. Together with a cast of nearly 150 students, co-directors Michael Croghan, Iva Jean Bayley and technical director Henry Maddox worked to once again produce a great show.

Jim Gregory and Terry Hubele (the Masters of Ceremony) decide to watch the show, too.

Although it was very early in the morning, about 65 dedicated seniors tumbled out of bed to embark on the senior trip to Six Flags over Mid-America. Stopping at a McDonald's and at a Sambo's for a quick bite of breakfast did wonders as far as waking everyone up. Even the constant drizzle (until late afternoon) didn't dampen spirits as some of the class of '78 bravely stood for an hour or more to ride the famed rollercoaster. Actually it was the cold weather, not allowing for shorts or sandals, but rather jackets and warm clothing that about "did the seniors in." In spite of the weather almost all of the students had a good day, taking in more of the floor shows and indoor activities than usual. After all, being with friends was all that really counted.

Seniors Reflect On The Past — Consider The Future

During a hot Sunday night on May 21, the 1978 Baccalaureate service was held in the high school auditorium. Parents, relatives and friends gathered to watch the seniors take final instructions on life from Rev. Michael Buckridge. The invocation and benediction were read by Dr. Harrison Peyton. The senior choir girls, under the direction of Mrs. Iva Jean Bayley, sang the special music entitled "I'll Walk With God." They were accompanied by Melody Storey, also a senior in the choir. Music for the processional and recessional was provided by sophomore Pharon Thackrey. Although the auditorium was extremely warm, the service gave the seniors the time to slow down, reflect on the past, and possibly consider the future.

Honors Given To Students On Awards Day

Awards Day is the day when those students who have excelled in the areas of sports, academics and music are honored for those achievements. The 77-78 school year was no exception as a large number of students took their places on the stage to accept their awards. Some of the awards given were in the areas of Singing Six, New Editions, majorettes, cheerleading and golf. The Illinois State Scholars were also recognized. For the third year in a row, the golf team was also recognized for their winning of the state golf championship. The journalism department also gave awards to the best yearbook editor, Dixie Anderson and the best photographer, Jeff Cutchin. Several scholarships were announced during the programs. The Elks club award went to Kelly Croghan, the John Crawley award to Kelly Dale and the Dorothy Hatfield scholarship to Karen Thackrey.

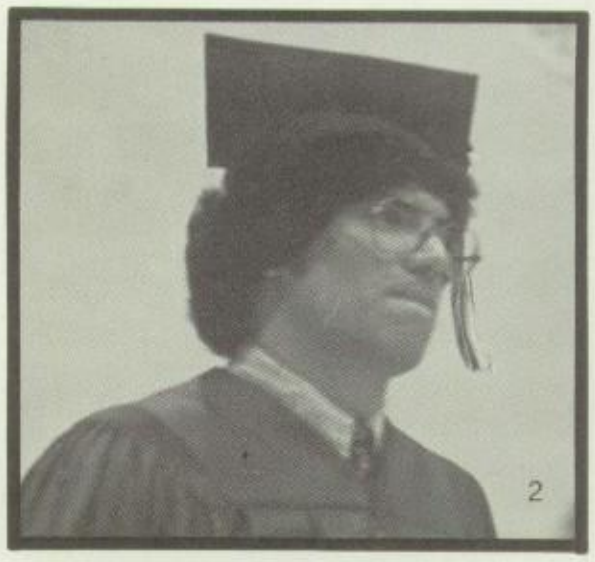
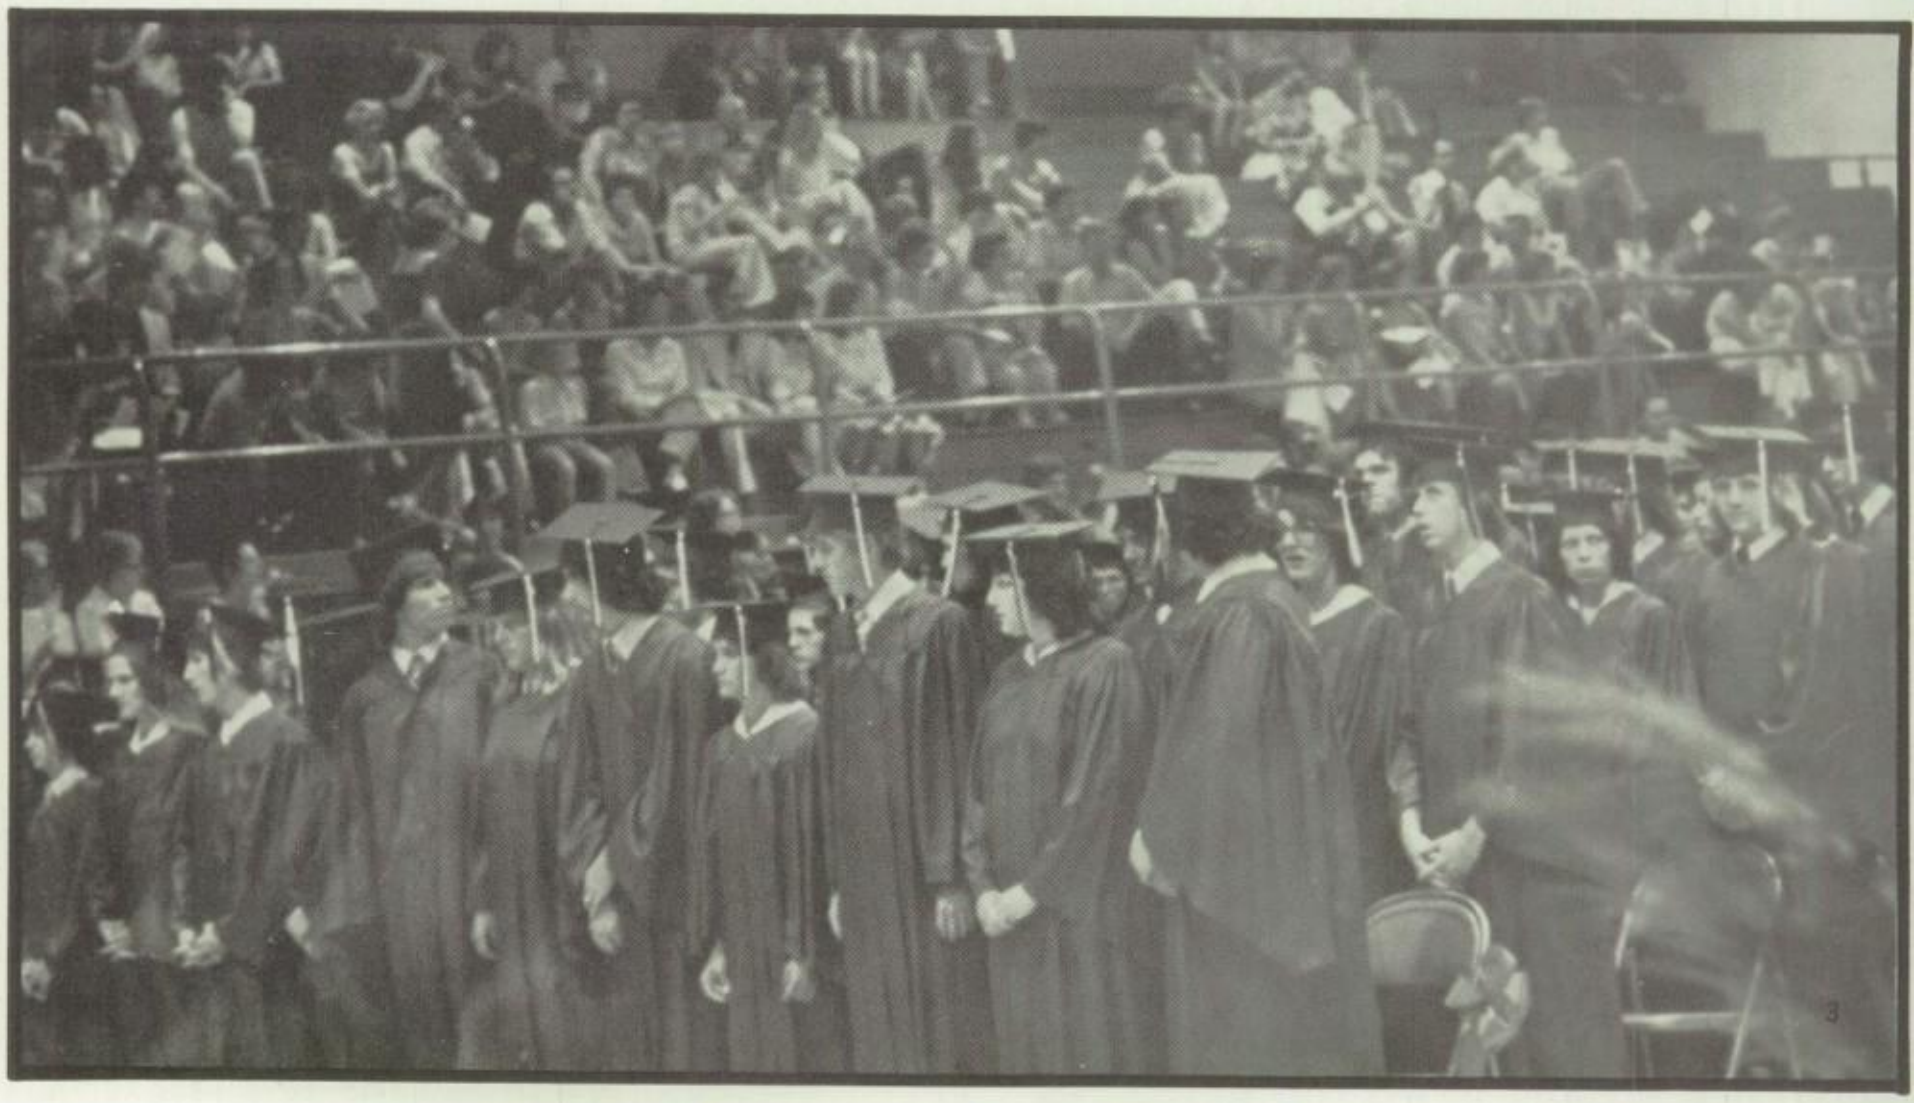
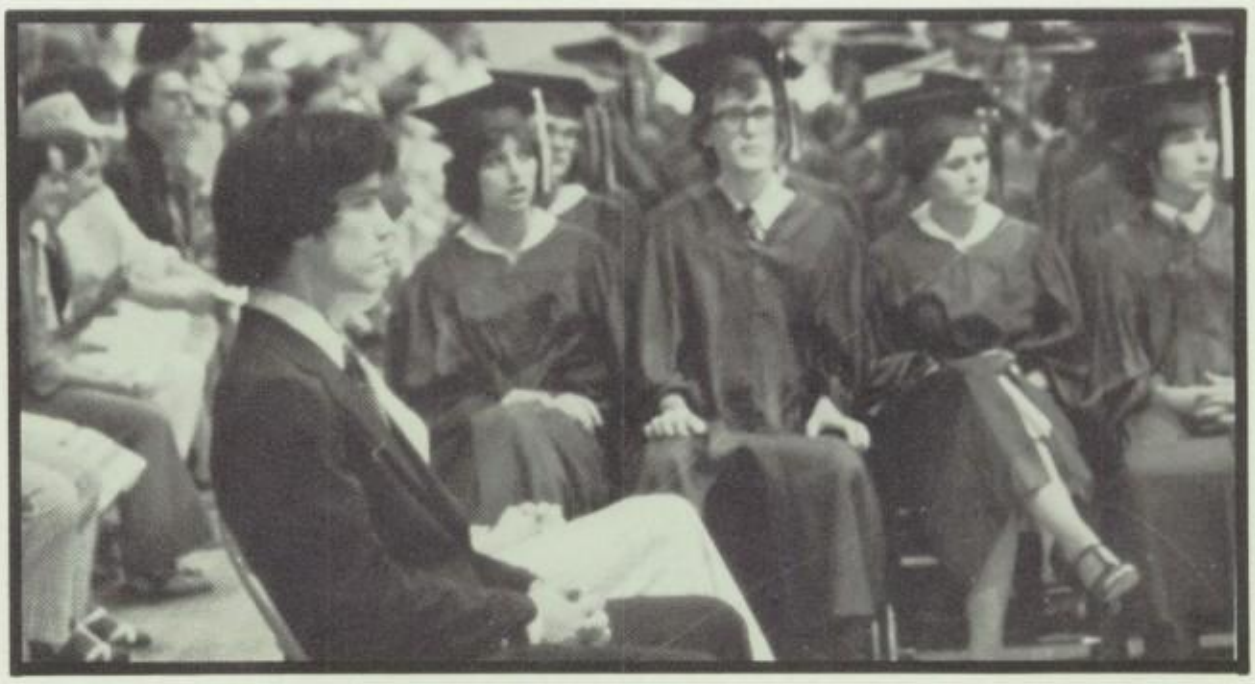
Class Of '78 Says Final Farewell To CCHS

After days of rehearsal and anticipation, graduation, May 25, finally arrived. It began with the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" which was played by Pharon Thackrey. Special music was provided by Melody Storey and Karen Thackrey, both seniors, who played a piano duet entitled "Poet and Peasant." Next were the addresses to the senior class given by Gale Courtnage and Jim Gregory. Fellow seniors chose Gale and Jim to speak from the top ten students with the highest grade point averages. Diplomas were then presented by Dr. William H. Courtnage who also had the honor of giving a diploma to his own daughter, Gale. Finally it was over. The recessional began and the class of '78 filed out. To some it was a happy time — to others a time of sadness. To all it was an open door through which all would continue their journey through time.



1. Mr. Darrell Sexton, superintendent, gives the welcome to the students, parents and relatives at graduation.
2. Mike Bova seems to show determination for the future after receiving his diploma.
3. The anxious seniors wait to receive their diplomas.





1. Carla Taylor and David Shoff look exceedingly thrilled with graduation practice.
2. Marshals for baccalaureate and graduation, Phil Burns and Nancy Reker, sit and listen to the speakers, realizing they will graduate next year.
3. Dr. William H. Courtnage smiles and congratulates the first on stage, Kelly Absher, realizing he has about 130 to go.
4. Gale Courtnage gives one of the addresses to the seniors. The other was given by Jim Gregory.
5. Although all had hoped for cool weather for graduation, once again the temperature soared as seen by the clothes worn by Jalana Phillips and Terry Hubele.
6. Mr. Lawrence Busch presents the class of '78 — his first graduating class since becoming principal of CCHS.

This year, for the first time, a new honor was presented. The honor, in the form of a certificate, was given to one boy and one girl from each class (senior, junior, etc.) for a total of eight students each nine weeks. Those chosen to receive the award were selected on the basis of 1. academic achievement. 2. attendance 3. involvement in extracurricular activities and 4. character. A student can receive the award only one time a school year. The purpose of the honor is to bring recognition to the students who have excelled in the above areas. The students were chosen by a combination of four members of the administration and two from the faculty: Mr. Lawrence Busch, Mr. Robert Harlan, Mrs. Joann Corcoran, Mr. Darrell Lower, Mr. Gary Harrison and Mrs. Diane Kunkel. Two new members of the committee will be selected from the faculty each year. The award, comparable to the "dean's list", is a great honor and is an effort to reward the "positive" members of the student body.

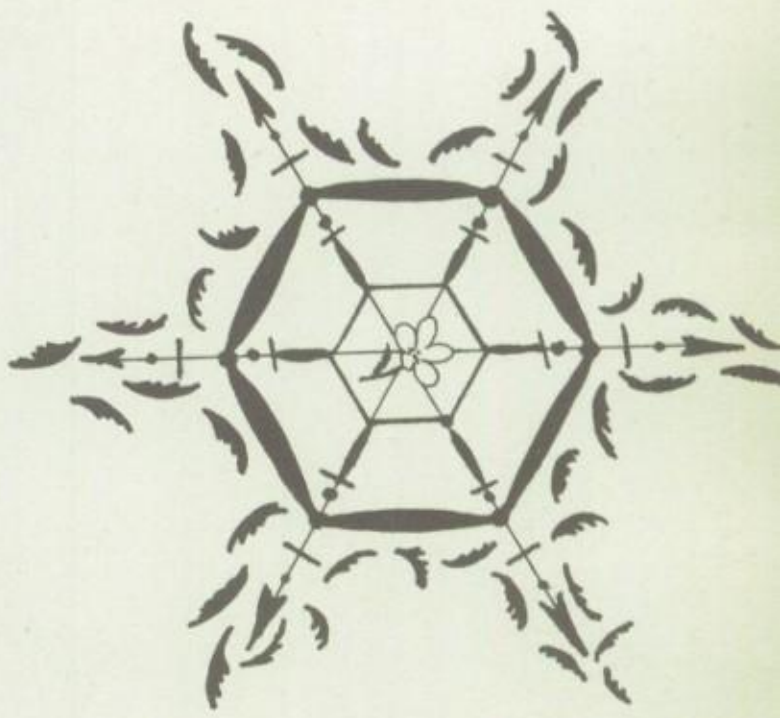
All Seasons



Seniors

The Class of '78 has attended its final year of school but has filled it with many activities before departing. In October, we prepared for Homecoming activities by building a float and sponsoring the dance. We selected Lea Ann Nelson as attendant and Debbie Rebstock was chosen queen. In December, Sherri Snyder, queen, and Kelly Croghan, King, represented our class at the Sweetheart Dance. When the Juniors bade farewell to the Seniors at the Prom, Terry Hubele received the honor of being king. Starring Kyle Davidson as J. T. Springer, twenty seniors presented the Senior Class Play, "Happy Daze". The senior trip was to Six Flags with the final activity being Graduation and saying goodbye.

In the 1977-78 school year, the Class of '79 had many things happen to them as the school year went along. The juniors started off by selling magazine subscriptions. They sold enough to enable them to achieve a new record of over $9,000. From this money they put on the Prom with a theme of "You Light Up My Life". Lisa Mundy was Prom Queen. During the Homecoming festivities Juniors won first place with their Homecoming float. Sandi Towell was the attendant while Steve Malone and Diana Vaupel were the Sweetheart attendants at the Christmas Dance. For the annual Junior Play, they acted out a play entitled, "Lilacs in the Rain".

The Class of 1980 began their year with the construction of a Homecoming float for the parade. The class motto for the float was "Bulldogs Eat Tiger Tidbits for Breakfast". The class attendant for the Homecoming festivities was Mona French. After Homecoming, they decided to sell candy to pay for class expenses. After one month the Sophomores cleared over $350. Soon the Sweetheart Dance rolled around and the class voted Jim Minor and Shelly Fry class attendants. In March, the Class of '80 ordered their class rings which they received at the end of May. All in all it was a busy, exciting, and profitable year for everyone.

We the Freshman class, made it through our "greenie" year following the traditions of getting lost in the hallways, dissecting those helpless little creatures, and, best of all, making new friends. We entered Carmi High School with an enrollment of 202. Becoming accustomed to the atmosphere, we built our Homecoming float and selected Missy Towell as our Homecoming attendant. Many of us got the thrill of our first high school dance. For the Sweetheart Dance we picked Sherri Waller and Richie Minor as our attendants. Our Freshman year leaves us many memories and holds many more promises for the coming year.

Student Council: A

Being President of the Student Council added much excitement to my senior year. We headed up the calendar of events with a rousing performance by Freedom Jam. We battled the elements of foul weather that dampened a few highlights during Homecoming week, but we did "Tear the Tigers to Tidbits." All of our long hours of preparation for the Sweetheart Dance were worth the efforts when I heard someone exclaim, "It was as nice as prom." Still, there were frustrating moments, such as a ship-

An All Girl Staff Puts It Together

"If only I had those pictures developed, I could finish my pages," was one of the many excuses our advisor Mrs. Debbie Bunting heard during the year. But fortunately the yearbook materialized into this unique collection of annual events at which you are now looking.

This year's theme is "Journey Through Time" which presents the school year in chronological order by seasons.

Some people think yearbooks are just a few words jumbled together with some pictures, but the assemblage of a yearbook isn't all peaches and cream.

First of all, we changed the theme a month after school started, because the first theme was impossible to work with. Next the total make-up had to be changed three times.

Despite the problems, the Carmian, an award-winning yearbook which has received the Golden Dozen award two consecutive years was compiled into an exceptional quality annual.

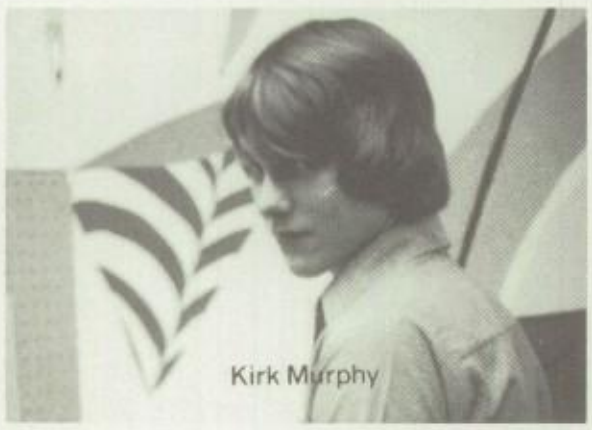
VOL. XXXI...NO. 2



Editorial Editor

My position as editorial editor of the Bulldog Barks has certainly been an experience. Working with the notorious bunch from room 208 throughout my senior year has presented me with many frustrations as well as joys. I hope that we have done a sufficient job on the paper this past year. I also hope the '78-'79 staff will equal or surpass our goals.

News Editor

Communication; perhaps no other single term possesses more significance. Without communicating our lives become increasingly narrow and isolated. If news editor of the Bulldog Barks has aided in any aspect of the communication process within Carmi High School, then I feel that the efforts which my fellow editors and I have placed into our school newspaper have been of some precedence.

Editor In Chief

Assigning "outrageous stories to Journalism I students, frantic trips to the Carmi Times, finishing page make-ups in minutes and distributing papers in record breaking time include a few responsibilities of being an editor of the Bulldog Barks.

Occupying the position of editor-in-chief has created even greater responsibilities for me. It was my job to take stories to the Times, pick up copy and wax it (often on the wrong side (?)) and complete fellow editors' pages in their absence. I would especially like to thank Gale Courtnage and Becky Travelstead for making-up the extra pages when I was unable to do this.

Standing in the parking lot, a small huddle of editors could often be found awaiting the arrival of the Bulldog Barks. When they arrived (at approximately 3:08), we grabbed the papers and literally flew through the halls delivering them barely "beating the clock."

My co-editors, Kirk, Brian, Charla and Scott, have been an outstanding group to work with. Thanks, gang — we did a great job.

Sports Editor

Being chosen as Sports Editor for the 1977-78 Bulldog Barks was quite an honor for me. Since my freshman year at Carmi High I had always wanted to be the Sports Editor for the paper, so naturally I was thrilled when I was given the job. I have always been a sports fanatic and writing stories has been one of my favorite pastimes in school. Thus, writing the articles on my pages was never hard, but meeting my deadlines was.

Feature Editor

As feature editor of the "Bulldog Barks," I composed the final page of the newspaper. Creating a page for a newspaper to me, is like working a jigsaw puzzle. There are many pieces which must fit together to result in the end product — a complete picture. The stories, along with the headlines, pictures, and captions were parts of the puzzle I worked every month.

Staff Photographers Learn From A Professional

Pictures make a yearbook. Or do they? Any CCHS photographer will tell you they are the most vital instrument in the yearbook organization. This year's large photography squad includes senior veterans Glenda Conner, Becky Fulkerson, Jeff Cutchin, Jim Gregory, Terry Hubele and Kelly Dale. A one man junior squad consists of John Emery. The hard working, talented sophomores are Cary Brown, Pat Croghan, Jeff Cozart, Greg Absher and Eric Emery.

On March 9, Steve Smith, Delmar representative, was accompanied to CCHS by Mr. Mike Ball, a professional photographer from Marion. Mr. Ball examined the darkroom and gave the photographers helpful hints on picture printing. April 10, photographers and journalism staff journeyed to Carbondale for the annual SISPA conference, where the CCHS crew met journalism students from other schools and observed their works.

Brenda Bassett Is Chosen DECA Student Of The Year

The DECA club, (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is made up of the Distributing Education students from Carmi, Enfield, Crossville and Grayville.

Several DECA Club members attended an officers training meeting at Springfield, Illinois in an effort to find ways to improve the club and to study how clubs from different towns function.

The club is made up of twenty-three out of the twenty-nine students in the DE class. The members chose Sr. David Austin as president of the club. Secretary Treasurer, Brenda Bassett of Enfield was named DE Student of the year.

"Gilt Chain" Is A First For Local FFA Chapter

A new project has been introduced by the FFA, this project being the gilt chain. A selected FFA student is given a gilt, a female pig which has never had offspring, to raise and breed. One offspring is then given to another student in the FFA chapter: thus, creating a gilt chain.

Amont their numerous activities was the FFA Barn Lot Fair, this was also a first time event. Grade school students from Big Prairie, Brownsville, Jefferson and Lincoln schools were bused to the fair grounds to observe the activities. The art of milking a cow and sheering a sheep were just a couple of events available for the young children to observe.

FHA Displays A Rainbow Of Fashions

The FHA began its activities this year with a flower campaign. Paper flowers were sold for a dime to students and were then delivered to whom ever the sender wished. Toward the end of the day the gifts became very popular and the FHA girls were kept very busy.

Their annual spring style show wound up the year for the club. Outfits which the girls had made during sewing class were modeled before the high school girls.

Jazz Band And New Editions Tour Two Area Schools

With the last half time performance only a few days behind them the Carmi band began to reorganize as a concert band. It was necessary to begin practice in order to prepare for the upcoming Christmas Concert.

The pep band continued their support of the Bulldogs with their arousing performances during halftime of the basketball games. An invitation to appear at A Kentucky Wesleyan basketball game proved to be an exciting way to wind up the year; however, the poor weather prevented the group from going.

Out of the muddle and shuffling of music and musicans came a new group, the jazz band. This ensemble became a familiar sight around town. Aside from their usual appearances in the concerts and One-Niter, the band had the first annual outdoor concert on the Baptist Church parking lot, which proved successful.

1. Director Mike Croghan puts in his two cents worth on the cow bell as he directs the pep band.
2. Beverly Williams and Kim Mears patiently wait their turn to tune up before Sights and Sounds concert.

Marching Bulldogs Begin Practice Two Weeks Early

As the summer drew to a close, the marching Bulldogs began drill in order to prepare for the coming half time performances. Director, Mike Croghan was forced to begin practice early since the first home game was scheduled for only two weeks following the beginning of school. Needless to say this was not a popular decision with those involved; however, the loyal band members turned out one and all to practice in earnest.

This year's group was lead by two senior veterans, Pascalle Cleveland and Brian Storey, who also saw to it that the Drum and Brass kept in step during their numerous parades. Also occupying the front ranks were the masters of the silver stocks, the majorettes. These girls included, Seniors, Kelly Absher and Sherri Snyder, Juniors, Sheila Bingman and Beverly Williams, Sophomores, Roxanne Pierson and Suzanne Rice.

Representing Carmi in local parades was the Drum and Brass. The corps presented a bright picture in white slacks, white caps and rugby shirts. Saturday parades took many sunny afternoons but each and every member agreed it was worth it following the routine trips to the Dairy Queen which were paid for by the band department.

Choir Depar

In Olney

In an effort to break away from the usual routine of choral concerts and performances, Mrs. Iva Jean Bayley, director, took the group to a choral workshop in Olney. Salem, Lawrenceville and Olney also participated in the workshop which was designed to strengthen the choirs as a whole. Objective criticism and an opportunity to observe other choir's techniques were among the most obvious of the many advantages.

1. Roxanne Pierson concentrates on getting all the notes right.
2. Seventh hour choir class practices on music for Sights and Sounds concert.
3. Director, Mrs. Iva Jean Bayley is caught before class in her office.
4. Melody Storey provided the choir with most of the piano music.

Choral Festival

Aside from the choral festival, choir activities ranged from selling crocks of cheese for Christmas with the band in order to raise needed funds for the music department, to walking up and down main street with sandwich signs to promote ticket sales for the One-Niter.

Even though their next move could never be predicted this bunch of singers always enjoyed themselves.

Six Girls And Six Guys Combine For A Great Sound

Never a dull moment would be the best way to describe this year's Singing Six and New Editions. Their first performance was at the Methodist Church and from then on they performed non-stop for the rest of the school year. Aside from concerts and One-Niter, the singers performed at church functions, small groups and made several trips to the skill care unit. Even though problems ranged from dead microphones, and out of tune pianos to no piano at all, the group always managed to perform well.

The New Edition's performance of "New York New York" and that of "Oliver" by the Singing Six in the One-Niter along with the Jazz tour to West Frankfort and Carrier Mills proved to be the highlights for this year.

Art Club Proves Talent On Downtown Store Windows

After his fourth year at CCHS, Mr. Paul Bunting (Art I, II, III and IV teacher) and sponsor seems to be coming up with new ideas for the Art Club. The club was organized to enable those students, whose interest is in the direction of art, a chance to come together and exchange ideas and have a good time.

Some of the activities of the club included painting on downtown business windows for Halloween and participating in the annual Sights and Sounds Concert with their display of art work. The club president was Eddie Jordan; Valeria Carr Rost, Vice-president, and Cathy Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Varsity Squad

Anderson Completes

Being captain of the varsity squad was quite an experience. The group was very co-operative in teaching newcomers Charla Horton and Kelly Manning.

Pep Club and the school board provided us with many uniforms and they also sent us to cheerleading camp. For the first time, the J.V. entrance fee was paid by the Pep Club.

At camp we only cheered together two days of the week. Lisa Mundy was on crutches due to a dislocated knee. Carla Hall was suffering from hives and a sprained ankle . . . the other three of us competed in cheer competition and

Dedicated C Club Members Contribute To Community

Dave Johnson and Randy Goin sponsor the "C" club. Any student who has done well enough in a given sport to receive a C for his letter jacket is eligible to belong to the club.

Even though the club itself participates very little in any type of activity, each and every individual club member contributes to the Carmi High School Athletic Department. Whether it be football, basketball, baseball, wrestling or track, each one gives his all and in turn gives the students something other than simply class and homework to look forward to. Not only does Carmi High benefit from athletes but so does the town. Many people support the Bulldogs in every sport in every season. Each and every one is an asset to the community.

1. A "C" club member can always be distinguished in a crowd by the large C's on their letter jackets.

Pep Club Promotes CCHS Spirit

One of Pep Club's main functions is to promote school spirit. This is done in several ways. All cheerleaders upon being elected are to belong to the club due to the fact that the pep club buys all uniforms, pompons, coats and funds cheerleading camp for both squads.

Aside from their own responsibilities the pep club enters in such activities as the Homecoming float contest. This year the pep club won a trophy for the best float.

Officers were: Dixie Anderson, President; Ann Spaetti, Vice-President; Karen Thackrey, Secretary Treasurer; and sponsors, Miss Diggs and Mrs. Mitchell.

Key Club Members Begin Tradition Of Initiation

A new practice was enforced this year by the upper classmen Key club members, this being initiation of new members. Some of the rituals were, rice crispies in the underwear, and smearing lard in hair. As if this was not enough, the new president of Kiwanis, Frank Brown, had a smile painted on the top of his head and was forced to wear a hat for the rest of the day.

Even though it was not evident in the first meetings, Key club is a very distinguished club. This group works in cooperation with the Kiwanis throughout the year, such as Pancake day.

Officers were: Marty Koontz, President Terry Hubele, Vice President, Kelly Dale, Secretary, Treasurer. Sponsors, Art Saunders, and David Stanhouse.

Tag Club Makes Math Interesting

The TAG Club, sponsored by Mr. Jerry Williams, after a year of non-existence came back to CCHS. The club was organized in an effort to delve into mathematical possibilities, expand the members comprehension of the basic mathematical concepts and various other problems which face humanity. Mostly, the club, made up of four members, had and created fun.

Carla Taylor Is Chosen As Society President

Very often high schools are criticized for directing most of their attention and praise toward athletic achievements and not enough toward academic achievements. However, Carmi High School has balanced the scales somewhat by supporting the National Honor Society. In order to become a member of NHS a student must complete four consecutive semesters with a grade point average of 4.0 and pass the approval of the high school faculty. If at any time a member's grade point average drops below the minimum standards of the society that individual is no longer a NHS member.

Quill-Scroll Publications Are Best Yet

The Bulldog Barks staff and the Carmian staff compose the local Roy Clippinger chapter of Quill and Scroll, named in honor of a former Carmi Times owner. In order to become a member a student must have completed one year of journalism and another year as an editor of either the Carmian yearbook or the Bulldog Barks newspaper staffs.

Mabel Baldwin Retires As Club Sponsor

FCA was organized for the purpose of creating and extending through school especially in the area of sports, high standards of Christian behavior. The president of the club was Kelly Croghan; the club was sponsored by Coach Harold Poore. The club also participated in an all-tournament track meet which involved several teams from neighboring towns.

The Student Christian Association also was formed to allow students to come together and grow in Christian principles. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Sharon Storey and Mrs. Mabel Baldwin.

Slave Day And Six Flags, Highlights Of Club Events

One of this clubs most entertaining activities is the Latin club slave day. All new club members are subject to obeying every order of the upper classmen Latin club members. These commands can get very interesting. Pushing pennies down the hall with their noses, standing on trash cans and singing the national anthem, doing somersaults down the aisles of the auditorium, and carrying mountains of books to classes are just a few of the services the new members are requested to do.

For their last fling of the year the Latin, Spanish and French clubs teamed up for a trip to Six Flags.

Latin club sponsor is Mr. Duncan with officers: President, Karen Thackrey, Vice President, Keith Ackerman, Secretary Treasurer, Kim Mears.

Nancy Price Resigns After Four Years As Club Sponsor

Foreign language teacher Miss Nancy Price was the sponsor of both the French and Spanish club. She worked along with French club officers: President, Rae Lynn Burns; Vice-President, Gale Courtnage; Secretary Treasurer, Pascalle Cleveland. Spanish club officers were: President, Kyle Davidson, Vice-President, Clint Whybark, and Tom Hall, Secretary Treasurer.

Both clubs participated in Corn Day Activities by bringing homemade cakes and cookies to sell at sidewalk bakesales. Food seemed to hold a soft spot for these two groups. French club sold homemade goodies at Freshman football games.

French and Spanish clubs had Christmas parties at which Miss Price treated them to what they loved best, food. All students seemed to enjoy themselves even though afterwards everyone had eaten too much.

Club Sells Worlds Finest Chocolate

An annual event for the Tri-Hi-Y is their World's Finest Chocolate sales. Twice a year Tri-Hi-Y girls carry boxes of candy to class with them and in the process become very popular, not to mention the money they make. No one can ever seem to make it until their lunch hour.

Aside from candy sales these girls also have a yearly dinner for the elderly. Each member is responsible for one guest and sees to it that they enjoy themselves.

Officers working with sponsor, Trudy Bratton, are Glenda Conner, President, Sheila Bingman, Vice-President and Kim Bayless, Secretary Treasurer.

Audree Riddell Visits Library Club Meeting

In the spring, Library club asked a former faculty member, Audree Riddell to speak to the club members and other interested students on the aspects of creative writing. Mrs. Riddell expressed that even though it may be discouraging in the beginning a young writer must continue to write regardless of criticisms in order to ever be good. Every student seemed to get a great deal out of the activity period spent talking to Mrs. Riddell.

Another activity of the club was the annual book fair held in the Library. Students bring any book which they have read and no longer wish to keep and buy any other book which they would like to have. Once again the fair was very successfull.

Mr. Evers And Mrs. Kunkel Organize Business Leaders

A new club was formed this year by faculty members John Evers and Diane Kunkel, this club being the Future Business Leaders of America. The club was formed to promote better leaders for tomorrow in the business field.

An impressive candle light ceremony with pledges read by president Ann Spaetti initiated the new members into the club.

Even though the Business leaders were newly formed this did not keep them from beginning activities immediately. A big step for the FBLA was the FBLA store which is located behind the auditorium and is opened every morning before school, lunch hour and activity periods. Products available were pencils, pens, folders, paper, protracters and compasses, just to name a few. Needless to say the store saved many students unnecessary trips up town.

Homecoming Mums Sold By Science Club

The Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Don Garrett is a club in which the members try to increase their knowledge in science. When they were not doing that they were having fun. Some of their activities included having a Christmas party at Mr. Garrett's home and a trip in May to Six Flags. Money for the trip was partially raised by the selling of mums at Homecoming. The mums were sold for the first time at the gate before the football game. Amid the fun was a touch of sadness. Mr. Garret taught his last year at the high school and will be leaving to be a counselor in the lower grades. The science club and the entire high school will miss a great teacher and friend.

Vangampler Receives Blue Ribbon At Mitchell Museum

Drawing, painting, weaving, making ceramics and sculpturing are some of the many projects Art classes undertake. The Art classes participate in two contests; Town and Country, and The Mitchell Museum Art Contest sponsored by Scholastic Magazine.

The students who exhibited artwork at Mitchell Museum were: Richard Vangampler, Mike Jordon, Gale Courtnage, Arthur Koker, Susie Schweitzer and Cathy Smith.

Richard Vangampler received a Blue Ribbon title which entitled his artwork to be sent to New York City to be exhibited. Richard also received the Golden Key Award.

Jim Gregory Independent In German

Miss Price, French and Spanish teacher, taught her many students the European languages, through quizzes, drills, and games.

Mr. Duncan kept his Latin I and II students busy learning the Latin languages.

In the Latin III and French III classes there was only one student enrolled in each.

Although German class was dropped in the 76-77 year, Senior Jim Gregory took an independent class.

Each language class held a dinner. The dishes were made up from the language class they were taking. Miss Price's classes also tasted different breads from those countries.

Language classes were quite interesting for foreign interested students.

Riddell Leaves; English Classes Shuffled

Since 3½ credits of English are required for graduation, CCHS has made a special effort to make the department more interesting. Such classes as Science Fiction and the Supernatural and College Prep have ventured to Evansville to supplement their learning experiences by taking in "Close Encounters" and the U. of E. Library, respectively.

Due to falling ACT scores, Mr. Gary Harrison, Mr. Stanley Hampton and Miss Trudy Bratton have specifically stressed their grammar programs.

Speech was a requirement for all sophomores, while juniors and seniors chose classes such as Poe and Twain, Literature for Young Adults, Creative Composition, Recent American Writers and Journalism, all made available through the English Elective System.

Business Keeps Students Busy

Typing A and B students knew the meaning of home row by the end of the first nine weeks. Typing C also learned office style typing and typing research papers.

The Business law class went on a field trip to view trial cases held at the White County Court House.

Bookkeeping classes had two major practice sets, with which they pretended to work for a company and keep a set of books.

Management and Sales classes discuss business management and sales presentation. The class also visited Mead Johnson in Evansville, Indiana.

Sophomores Ready For Dragging Main Street

Health, a semester course taught by Mrs. Sharon Storey, Mr. John Evers, Mr. Harold Poore and Mr. Thys Bax, is required by the state.

The other semester is divided into two 9 week courses, consisting of Drivers Ed. and Consumers Education.

The drivers education class is taught by Poore and Mr. David Stanhouse. They give the students an idea of what to expect and what to do before they get behind the wheel.

After the first half the students are given behind the wheel. Instructors are Mr. Ken Hurt, Bax, Poore and Stanhouse. Students are required to drive 6 hours to receive a permit. Consumers Education gives students an outlook on life. "Let the Buyer Beware" was a phrase used by CE teachers Mrs. Anna Stein and Mr. John Evers.

Mr. John Evers Joins Social Studies Staff

American History, Civics, Psychology, Sociology and Advanced Social Studies were the five courses of social sciences offered to students. An up-to-date approach to studying up-to-date issues was done by viewing the "Today" show in 1st hour Current Events. Of the six courses, American History and civics are required before graduation.

American History was taught by Mr. James Endicott, Mr. Stanley Hampton, Mr. Dean Hughes and Mr. Henry Maddox. Mr. John Evers joined forces with Mr. Maddox as they taught seniors about the American and Illinois governmental systems.

The goal of the teachers who taught social sciences was to educate the students to become valuable American citizens, to realize their responsibilities in life and to know what happened in the past and what could come in the future.

Mrs. Baldwin Retires After 38 Years

"College Bound" are the key words describing the Mathematics Department at CCHS. All the courses, except the first required year, are directly orientated for students planning to further their education after high school.

Mrs. Mabel Baldwin, math and algebra teacher, lays her math book aside after 38 years of teaching. She will be missed by all faculty and students.

Mr. David Stanhouse kept his general and practical math and algebra students busy, while Mr. (J. W.) Williams was always giving PARTIES (tests) in his Algebra I and II, Geometry, as well as Advanced Math classes.

Physical Education Keeps Students Fit

CCHS is one of the few schools in the area sporting separating boys' and girls' gyms, thus permitting more activity and more selective programming for both groups.

The curriculum in boys p.e. class included a variety of activities such as Football, basketball, dodge ball, wrestling and calisthenics to keep all boys physically fit.

Miss Georgia Bramlet with assistance of Mrs. Debbie Usery kept their girls in tact with badminton, volleyball, volley tennis, hockey, whiffle ball and elementary gymnastics and tumbling.

Let's not forget the rough games of basketball.

Weather, Radiation, Lab, Studied In Science

By means of a miniature weather station outside the building, Mr. Hurt's general science students measured snow fall (which by Feb. 16 was 24 inches). Each student also had to predict the weather for one week.

Biology classes dissected frogs, starfish, earthworms, and fetal pigs. Local Veterinarian Bud Zieren enriched the advanced class by bringing in some premature puppies.

Chemistry students worked in the laboratory one day a week, while advanced chemistry spent four days a week in lab.

Students in Physics class went on a wild goose chase looking for radiation. They also brewed up some cornmush during class.

Men Master Machine Skills and Build Furniture

Industrial Arts afford many students the opportunity to learn a skill which they can put to use building important products. Besides learning to use the simple hammer, students are taught how to use sanders, how to weld and how to cut with various kinds of saws. Before they can build, however, students must have a plan. Mechanical drawing is taught to show them the way.

Some students were involved in building products to take home, such as decorative lamps.

Construction projects also included the making of furniture. Advance students also learned the art of cabinet making and did advanced work with wood.

Co Eds. Take Auto Study

Auto Mechanics was directed by Mr. Donald White, first year instructor, at the Vocational Center.

Three blocks were offered to both juniors and seniors.

Tearing down engines and then rebuilding them was one way to pass the classroom time. The students also tuned cars and gave the cars the needed conditioning and parts to keep them on the road.

Boys and girls from Enfield, Grayville, Crossville combined with students from Carmi.

1. Bruce Baker is testing a car's battery, one of the many procedures that goes on at Auto Mechanics.
2. Andy Elliott, Sophomore, tears down an engine during class.

Sixth Year For New Home Creation

The Building Trades House for this year is located on April Avenue.

The brick home has three bedrooms, two baths, a family room, large living room, combination kitchen and dinette, utility and storage room and a double car garage.

The family room in the house has a bay window, and a corner fireplace. The kitchen has continuous fluorscent soffit lighting above the cabinets. The house is equipped with an AM-FM intercom system.

Carmi, Enfield and Grayville students are involved in working on the house.

The house was wired by Mr. Taylor's electricity class. Mr. Carter's class did the furnace and duct work. Mr. Allen Bohleher is the instructor of the Building Trades Program.

Girls Master Skills To Use As Homemakers

Under the supervision of Barbara Jestic, the Child Care students at the Vocational Center worked with preschool children.

The children attended the Red Apple Nursery School at the Vocational Center. At the end of the regular school year, the students held a graduation for the children.

Home Economics students learned the skills of sewing and cooking under the direction of Karen Johnson.

Creative Cookery helped students in cake decorating and foreign foods.

The Interior Design class decorated the Building Trades House. At the end of the school year the sewing classes held a style show in the spring.

Students Practice Health Care

The students enrolled in the class of Health Occupation were introduced into the field of medicine and the helping of the community.

Mrs. Maureen Reitz, Nursing teacher, instructed students on the proper medical care of patients and the fundamentals of first aid.

The girls worked at the Doctor's Offices, Carmi Hospital, Carmi Skilled Care Unit, Wabash Christian Retirement Center, along with the dental offices in the community.

Mrs. Reitz, held classes at LWAVC two days a week.

Distributive Education Program Trains Young Retailers

Thirty students from Carmi, Crossville and Enfield, prepared themselves to learn the "tricks of the trade" as they participated in D.E. (Distributive Education) and H.E.R.O. (Home Related Economics Occupations.) The prerequisites for enrolling in the two programs are a strong desire to work and a class standing of Junior or Senior, with the Seniors getting first priority.

This year's Outstanding D.E. student was Brenda Bassett, who, like other D.E. and H.E.R.O. students, learned the skills of business marketing and management sales.

Arla Mitchell Takes Over O.O. Program

In Office Occupations skills which can be applied to all areas of office work are studied. After completing the course a student is able to use various office machines from adding machines to typewriters to ditto machines to zerox machines.

Students are placed in jobs throughout the community. Charla Horton worked under the O.O. program as a secretarial aid in the high school main office. Students held class once a week at the LWAVC where Arla Mitchell began her first year as head of the program.

1. Robin Meehan, jr., participates in the Office Occupations program and masters the art of using an adding machine.
2. Debbie Shoff, jr., and Robin Meehan practice O.O. skills.

Electives Prove Important To Students

The Industrial Cooperative Education (I.C.E.) students, under the guidance of Mr. Cyril Doerner worked on small engines and machines. The students go to school in the morning, and work in the afternoon.

Electrical Wiring classes were totally responsible for the wiring of the Building Trades House, and installing appliances in the home. Both I.C.E. and Electrical Wiring classes are electives taken by junior and senior boys. The boys learned many skills they will be able to use in the future.

Mr. Carl Taylor, instructed students in T.V. and Electronics. They gained experience in labwork and shopwork. The students enjoyed working with televisions and electronics.

Students enrolled in the Drafting classes at Carmi and at the Little Wabash Area Vocational Center are preparing to enter the world of Architecture.

The two year program requires students to draw sketches of electric wiring and architecture. The students at LWAVC must design a home, and from those designs, they then choose the design for the Building Trades House.

Architectual drafting includes drawing three view dimensional drawings. The students also learn how to read blueprints, make sketches, and learn to construct isometric drawings.

A Crossville student, worked on plans for the 1978-79 Building Trades House.

Farm Equipment Repaired; Rend Lake Water Analyzed

The responsibility of teaching Agriculture classes went to Mr. Tony Gates, Mr. Norman Lamp and Mr. Steve Martin. The classes were offered to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Learning safety techniques, different tools and small engine repair were some of the many classroom studies in Ag. I. The students also learned how to shear sheep and worked in the shop overhauling engines and setting up farm equipment.

Ag. II students worked with diesel engines, tractors, plows, discs and with other farm equipment. Local dealers cooperated providing equipment to work on.

The Environmental Conservation class studied water, soil and its make-up and types of pollution. The class ventured to Rend Lake for a one day field trip.

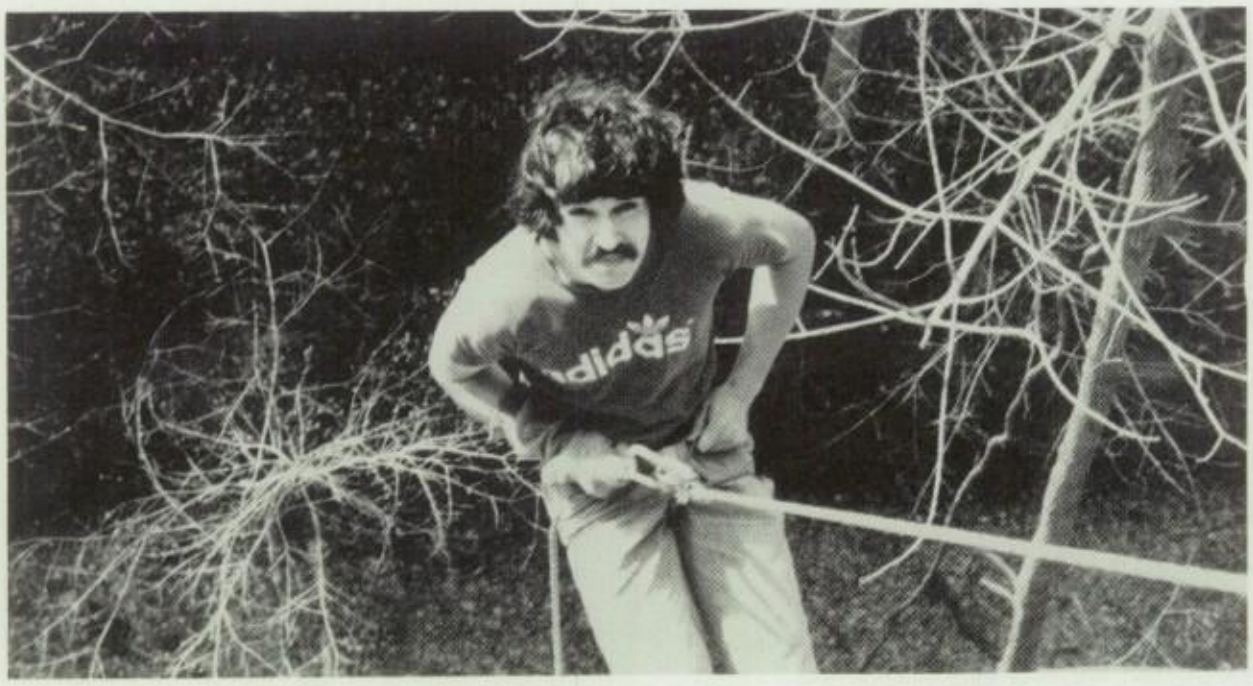
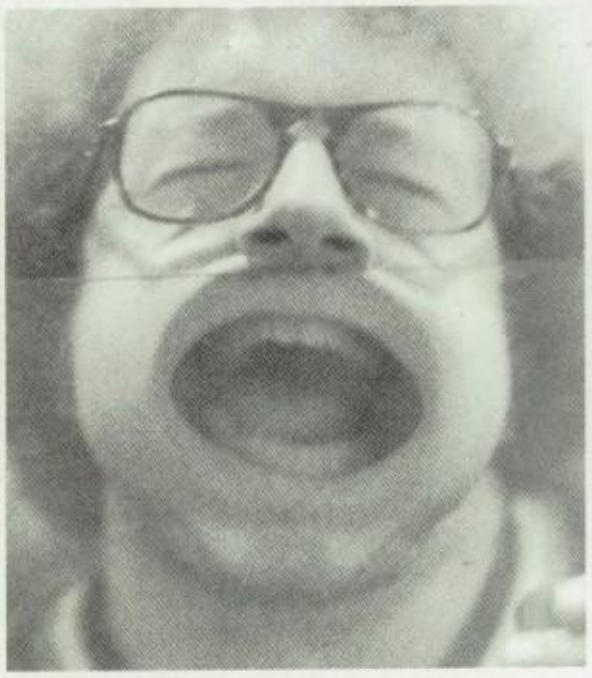
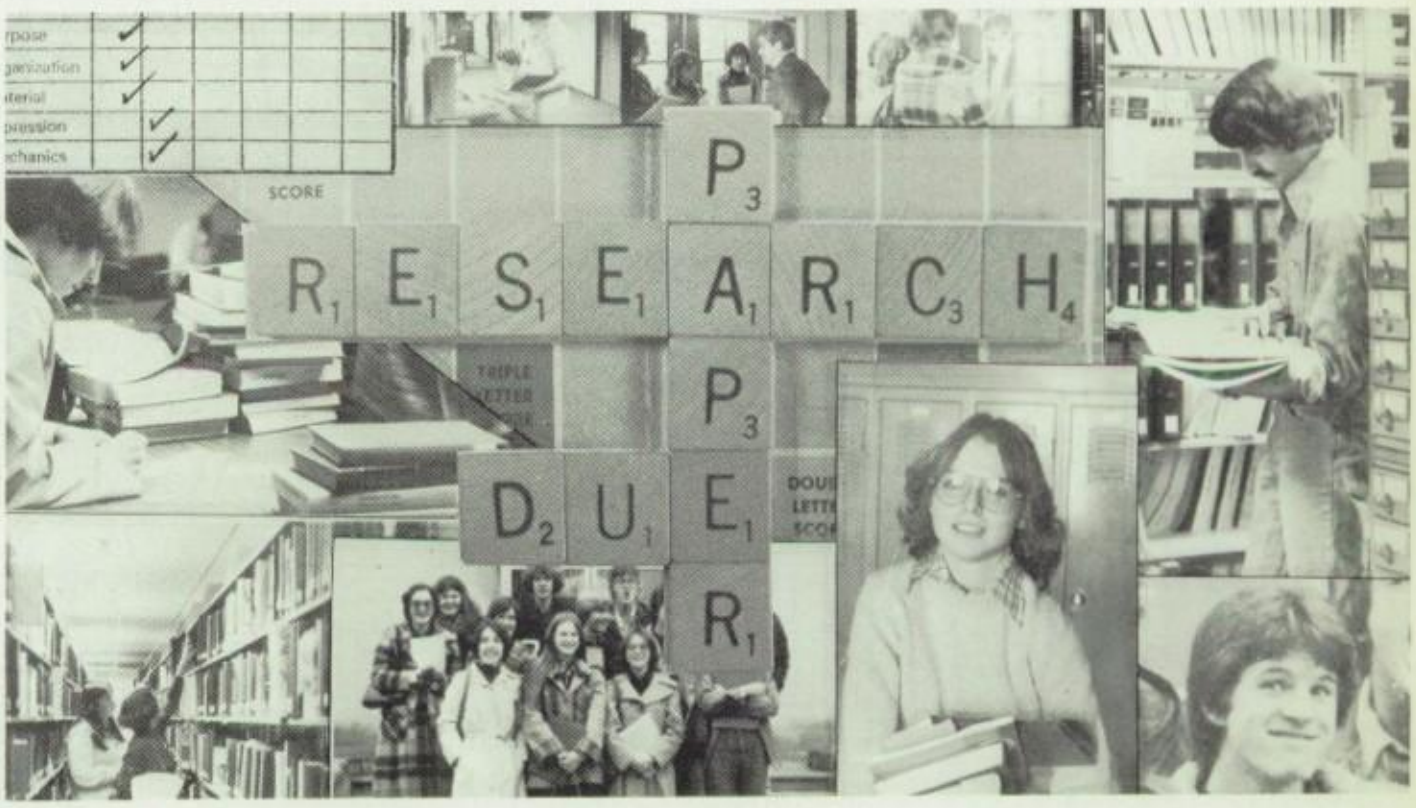
CLOSING





Activities which seemed to be insignificant to some undergraduates actually fascinated other members of our student body. For instance, Terry Hubele practiced rock-climbing for an Outward Bound expedition. Jerry Renshaw amused the high schoolers with Gong Show glass-blowing acts, and Robin, The Boy Wonder, arrogantly signed countless autographs at the new Big John's Supermarket.

Kelly Absher and Cindy Hayse demonstrated the correct way to have a "spastic" while Mr. "Guitar Man" Ramsden produced airplane and cow noises on his instruments. One scene which was familiar to all College Prep. students was the journey to the University of Evansville Library to prepare term papers.



Even though these particular activities were carried to an extreme, anything you experienced, whether trite or triumphant, helped you travel through your Journey Through Time. We hope that this yearbook has helped you recapture all of those moments for years to come.

Autographs

Janie,
You are a real
a friend, I'd give

Janie,
I'm not to good
at this. It's hard to believe I've known
you since first grade.
Remember the Christmas
Play (Teddy Bears) you couldn't do a somersault. How about in sixth grade when we went wading? Remember Elvis Presley? I've had some fun times with you and I'm sure Kim has, too. Hope to have more. God Bless!

during your

Janie,
You are a really neat girl. Sometimes a party just isn't the right place to get to know someone. I'm glad we had a lot of time in Art. (putting clay flowers which wasn't fun) Hee Hee. Stay sweet & keep smiling!
Ron

Janie,
I appreciate some of the times you let me pour out my feelings to you when I was down or mad, or whatever. Well it's too bad we don't have any classes together this year. Good luck always.
Rhonda
"Keith"

Janie,
Well we finally made it through another year. Ohio is a long ways away but I'll be back some day to see you. Keep your nose clean and don't get into too much trouble.
Love always,
Debra Chandler

Janie,
You're a real sweet friend and cousin. Got any M&M's? Be good and stay out of trouble.
Good luck too!

"Journey"

Janie,
To a crazy kind a girl that like to hang people alot but is pretty nice considering.
Good luck in the futer.
If you evaluate your talents
you may go far

"Through Time"

Janie,
Well, well, well,
another year. Just three more to go. Won't it be fun being a "Senior"
Wow. Hope you get to college.
I'm thinking about going to
C.M.O. central Michagan Unniversaty!
It will be a long hard time till then!
Be good (or at least better)

Jal (Andromeda)

Janie
How you been. I haven't seen you since last year. We had a lot of fun in Bio. We would always get into trouble for talking
I had alot of fun anyway.
Well be good and don't go to too many parties
